The NBA's New York Knickerbockers basketball team, in its 65th year of operation is part of Madison Square Garden, a fully-integrated sports, entertainment and media business. The company is comprised of three business segments: MSG Sports, MSG Entertainment and MSG Media, which are strategically aligned to work together to drive MSG's overall business, which is built on a foundation of iconic venues and compelling content that MSG creates, produces, presents and/or distributes through its programming networks and other media assets. MSG Sports consists of owning and operating sports franchises, including the New York Knicks (NBA), the New York Rangers (NHL), the New York Liberty (WNBA), and the Hartford Wolf Pack (AHL). MSG Sports also features other sports properties, including the presentation of a wide variety of live sporting events including professional boxing, college basketball, track and field and tennis. MSG Entertainment is one of the country's leaders in live entertainment. MSG Entertainment creates, produces and/or presents a variety of live productions, including the Radio City Christmas Spectacular featuring the Radio City Rockettes, throughout the country. MSG Entertainment also presents or hosts other live entertainment events such as concerts, family shows and special events in MSG's diverse collection of venues. These venues include Madison Square Garden, Radio City Music Hall, the Theater at Madison Square Garden, the Beacon Theatre, the Chicago Theatre and the Wang Theatre. MSG Media is a leader in production and content development for multiple distribution platforms, including content originating from MSG's venues. MSG Media consists of the MSG Networks (MSG, MSG Plus, MSG HD and MSG Plus HD) regional sports networks and the Fuse Networks (Fuse and Fuse HD) a national television network dedicated to music. MSG Media is also responsible for managing interactive initiatives across all business segments. More information is available at www.msg.com.

JAMES L. DOLAN

Executive Chairman, Madison Square Garden

As executive chairman of Madison Square Garden (MSG), James L. Dolan oversees MSG's many entities, including its world-famous arena complex, professional sports teams, sports and entertainment networks, and historic showplaces. Mr. Dolan also serves as president and chief executive officer of Cablevision Systems Corporation, one of the nation's leading media and entertainment companies.

In his role at MSG, Mr. Dolan is responsible for the company's overall growth strategy and manages all of its operations. He also serves as governor to the National Basketball Association and the National Hockey League on behalf of the New York Knicks and Rangers.

To ensure the standing of MSG's premier venues, Mr. Dolan has taken on a number of restoration projects throughout his tenure. MSG is currently undergoing a complete transformation that will significantly enhance the experience of customers, athletes, entertainers, suite holders and partners. Mr. Dolan was also the catalyst for a restoration of the company's Beacon Theatre, which was renewed to its former grandeur in early 2009. Among his most significant accomplishments as MSG chairman, Mr. Dolan spearheaded a multimillion-dollar restoration of Radio City Music Hall, returning the national landmark and MSG showpiece to its original splendor.

Over the past few years, Mr. Dolan has taken additional steps to expand MSG's entertainment properties. They include the addition of The Chicago Theatre, which was built in 1921 as one of the country's most opulent motion picture houses. MSG also extended its music business, acquiring a minority-equity interest in Front Line Management, the entertainment industry's largest personal music management firm.

Mr. Dolan has led MSG's response to local and national tragedies. He played a principal role in organizing "The Concert For New York City," which generated more than $35 million in aid for 9/11 victims and heroes, and "From The Big Apple to The Big Easy," which raised nearly $9 million for Hurricane Katrina relief. Mr. Dolan also supports MSG's ongoing commitment to the community, particularly through the Garden of Dreams Foundation, the non-profit charity that partners with MSG to help children in crisis throughout the New York metropolitan area.

In addition to his leadership role at MSG, Mr. Dolan is chief executive of Cablevision Systems Corporation, which served as MSG's parent company until February 2010, when the sports and entertainment business became a separate, public entity. Mr. Dolan oversees Cablevision's comprehensive portfolio of advanced telecommunications services: iO TV digital video, Optimum Voice digital voice, Optimum Online high-speed Internet and Optimum WiFi, the nation's largest and most advanced WiFi network.

Mr. Dolan also oversees Rainbow Media Holdings LLC, a programming pioneer that reaches hundreds of millions of consumers through some of today's most watched and recognized programming networks, including AMC, IFC, Sundance Channel, and WE tv. Also under his purview, and serving the New York tri-state area, are the company's local media properties, which include News 12 Networks, MSG Varsity and Newsday Media Group, which features Long Island's leading daily newspaper, Newsday. Other entertainment businesses under the Cablevision umbrella include Clearview Cinemas, one of the largest motion picture exhibitors in the New York metropolitan area.

Prior to assuming his present posts at Cablevision and MSG, Mr. Dolan was CEO of Rainbow Programming Holdings, Inc. (now Rainbow Media Holdings LLC) where he oversaw all facets of the business. Mr. Dolan began his career with Cablevision in the 1970s and served in a variety of executive positions before overseeing Rainbow.

Mr. Dolan serves on Cablevision's board of directors and its executive committee. He is also on the board of The Lustgarten Foundation, an organization he helped found in 1998 which today is the nation's largest private supporter of pancreatic cancer research. In addition, he sits on the boards of the New York University Steinhardt Dean's Council and the Breathe Easy Play Hard Foundation.

HANK J. RATNER

President and Chief Executive Officer, Madison Square Garden

Hank J. Ratner is President and Chief Executive Officer of Madison Square Garden, which includes renowned performance venues, entertainment properties, professional sports teams and television networks. Mr. Ratner directs the overall growth strategy and day-to-day operations of the business. He also serves as alternate governor to the National Basketball Association and the National Hockey League on behalf of the New York Knicks and Rangers.

MSG's signature assets consist of some of the nation's most popular entertainment and sports properties, including "The World's Most Famous Arena," along with New York's Radio City Music Hall and Beacon Theatre, The Chicago Theatre and the Wang Theatre in Boston. Other MSG entities include the New York Knicks, Rangers and Liberty; MSG Entertainment, a live-entertainment company; MSG and MSG Plus, regional sports and entertainment networks; and Fuse, a national music network.

In February of 2010, Mr. Ratner led the spin off of Madison Square Garden from Cablevision Systems Corporation and, today, MSG operates as a standalone, public company. He is also spearheading the transformation of MSG, which will significantly enhance the experience of customers, athletes, entertainers, suite holders and partners. In addition, the project will include a dramatically redesigned Seventh Avenue entrance, new seats, improved sightlines, new Event Level and Lower Level suites, two new bridges suspended above the playing surface, and spectacular public concourses. The Transformation will also pay homage to the building's storied history, while restoring the Garden's distinctive and celebrated ceiling.

Mr. Ratner served as MSG's Vice Chairman for seven years before being named President and Chief Executive Officer, following MSG's spin off from Cablevision. Throughout his tenure, Mr. Ratner has been influential in formulating and implementing strategic direction for MSG. He played a key role in bringing three of the country's landmark showplaces – New York City's legendary Beacon Theatre, the historic Chicago Theatre and the Wang Theatre in Boston – under MSG management. In addition, he helped to secure the company's successful relationship with Cirque du Soleil and developed MSG's music strategy which emphasizes collaboration between MSG Entertainment and Fuse to provide a unique platform for artists to connect with fans and creates innovative programming for Fuse viewers. MSG's music strategy has already led to the development of the "Fuse Presents" concert series in which Fuse presents live concerts from MSG's iconic venues.

As Chairman of the Garden of Dreams Foundation, the non-profit that works closely with all areas of Madison Square Garden, Mr. Ratner has been a driving force behind the creation and significant expansion of the charity's programs, enhancing its commitment to make dreams come true for children facing enormous obstacles. Since its inception in 2006, Garden of Dreams has created thousands of once-in-a-lifetime experiences at MSG, Radio City Music Hall, the Beacon Theatre, the MSG Training Center, and at Fuse and MSG television studios brightening the lives of more than 150,000 tri-state area children in crisis, and their families.

Mr. Ratner has also served as vice chairman of Cablevision Systems Corporation since 2003. In this role, he helps to set corporate direction and strategy for the media and telecommunications company whose portfolio of operations includes a full suite of advanced digital television, voice and high-speed Internet services, some of the country's most-watched national television networks, and valuable local media and programming properties. Prior to serving as MSG and Cablevision vice chairman, Mr. Ratner served as COO and then Vice Chairman of Rainbow Media Holdings, the programming subsidiary of Cablevision. At Rainbow, he helped lead the executive management team that directed AMC, IFC, Bravo, WE tv, Fuse, Lifeskool, News 12 Networks, Rainbow Advertising Sales Corporation and Rainbow Sports Networks. In 2005, Mr. Ratner led Cablevision's negotiations with Fox to restructure the ownership of assets held by Regional Programming Partners, a partnership between the two companies. This restructuring gave Cablevision, among other benefits, 100 percent ownership of MSG and its properties.

Mr. Ratner joined Cablevision as Assistant General Counsel in 1987. A year later, he moved to Rainbow Media, rising to the position of Rainbow's Chief Operating Officer in 1998. Mr. Ratner was then promoted to Vice Chairman of Cablevision before also being named Vice Chairman of MSG in 2003.

Previously, Mr. Ratner was an associate with the law firm of Sullivan & Cromwell. He received a bachelor's degree and doctorate of law with distinction from Emory University.

DONNIE WALSH
President, Basketball Operations

Donnie Walsh further solidified his reputation as one of basketball's most respected executives when he presided over a whirlwind off-season that dramatically changed the face of one of the NBA's premier franchises.

Currently in his third season as Knicks president, basketball operations, Walsh has mapped a clear and unwavering path for long-term success ever since returning to his native Big Apple on Apr. 2, 2008. Succeeding on his initial plan to bring the Knicks under the NBA Salary Cap for the first time in more than a decade, Walsh's efforts eventually resulted in New York's headline-making Summer of 2010 in which Donnie put five-time NBA All-Star Amar'e Stoudemire, veteran backcourt leader Raymond Felton, and rising talents Anthony Randolph, Kelenna Azubuike, Ronny Turiaf and Roger Mason, Jr. in Knicks uniforms.

Over an NBA career that has stretched to nearly three decades, it was an off-season unlike any other for Walsh, the League's longest-tenured basketball decision-maker.

"I was really looking forward to the free agent market because I really felt you could build a team with the kind of players we wanted," says Walsh, 69. "I feel like we've done that, and for the first time I feel like we've got a team that seems to fit together. I like the attitude and the talent of the players we've brought in. I like the fact that you can plug them in and they should, as we go on, make each other better. That's what a team does. I think we got to the first stage of trying to bring New York back to contending status, which is our goal, to contend for a championship. It's not just to do this or that, it's to try to end up with a contending team. I think we've made a step toward that."

Few know the New York mindset better than Walsh, a product of the city's streets and blacktops. Throughout the rebuilding process, he continually cites the patience and enthusiasm of a Big Apple fandom that sold out the Garden 49 times over Walsh's first two Knicks seasons.

"I think the fans are really interested in how we're going to be," he says. "They sense it's a brand new team. They're really informed fans...I think they're hopeful that we'll be a better team and will challenge for the Playoffs, then build the team up into a contending team. We did pretty much what we told them we'd do two years ago. This is what we've done, and if you come in I think you'll see a team that can succeed; and we'll be looking at the parts of this team to make sure we see what else we have to do to get this where it should be."

Walsh's makeover of the Knicks has been such that only two players - Wilson Chandler and Eddy Curry - remain from the team Donnie inherited in April 2008. And by no means is it complete, as Walsh's management of the Salary Cap allows for the possibility of further key acquisitions in the years ahead.

"Our plan was to get into the free agent market, but also to manage the cap so that we can go back into it as needed," he explains. "Our cap is in a very flexible position, because we don't have a lot of long-term contracts. I never approached it with the feeling that we could solve all of the problems this year; things don't work that way."

Rebuilding an NBA franchise toward contending status is nothing new for Walsh. He joined the Knicks following a 24-year tenure with the Indiana Pacers, over which he built the Pacers into one of the NBA's elite franchises.

The Bronx native originally joined the Pacers as an assistant coach in 1984. He was promoted to general manager in 1986, to president of the Pacers Basketball Corporation (now Pacers Sports & Entertainment) in 1988 and, on July 11, 2003, to chief executive officer and president. Under Walsh's leadership, the Pacers won four Central Division Championships, made six trips to the Eastern Conference Finals, and climaxed Walsh's tenure with the 2000 Eastern Conference Championship.

George Kalinsky for Madison Square Garden

In addition to his success with the NBA Pacers, Walsh oversaw major projects for Pacers Sports & Entertainment, including the opening of Conseco Fieldhouse in 1999 and the creation of the WNBA's Indiana Fever that same year. Considered one of the game's true showplaces, the state-of-the-art Fieldhouse owes much of its "retro" feel to Walsh's input and memories from his days as a fan at the Old Garden on 49th Street. ("The excitement of walking into that lobby; I remember how exciting that was," he says). In addition, he was a member of the U.S. Olympic Games Committee for the 1992 and 1996 men's basketball squads.

Walsh's basketball pedigree took firm root on the streets of New York City. An outstanding high school player at Fordham Prep, he scored a game-high 23 points to earn Most Valuable Player honors in the 1958 Herald Tribune High School All-Star Game at the Old Garden on Mar. 29, 1958. Walsh then played at the University of North Carolina under the legendary coaching duo of Frank McGuire and Dean Smith.

Over a 10-year period that concluded with the 2004-05 season, the Pacers had the best winning percentage (.602) of any team in the Eastern Conference. The Pacers won 50-plus games five times under Walsh's stewardship, and made the NBA Playoffs 16 times over a 17-year span from 1989-90 through 2005-06. Highlighting that stretch were six memorable Playoff series against the Knicks which the two teams split 3-3, including Indiana's triumph over New York in the 2000 Eastern Finals which earned the Pacers their first trip to The NBA Finals. With the Pacers, Walsh brought three of the game's most respected names - Hall of Famers Larry Brown, Larry Bird and Isiah Thomas - to coach the team.

"What you can't lose sight of is that it all revolves around the team itself. Your team is going to reflect your franchise," says Walsh. "We're in a professional sports world where, in order to be a successful company, you've got to be good. And the team's got to be good in two ways: It's got to be successful in wins and losses, and it's also got to be well-liked and well-identified by the fans."

After graduating with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science, Walsh attended the North Carolina Law School and helped coach the Tar Heels' freshman team for two seasons. After graduating from law school and turning down offers from then-former Vice President Richard Nixon's law firm in New York City and the U.S. Justice Department's Honors programs, he took a graduate coaching position under Smith at North Carolina and then became an associate head coach under McGuire at South Carolina.

In 1977, Walsh was about to enter private law practice in South Carolina, but Brown, the head coach of the Denver Nuggets, asked Walsh to join him as an assistant. Walsh stayed with the Nuggets as an assistant coach and then as head coach - compiling a 60-82 mark over three seasons - before entering private business in 1982. He joined the Pacers in 1984 as an assistant under Head Coach George Irvine.

In 2000-01, Walsh earned recognition from Bloomberg News Service as the NBA's top basketball executive in a vote of the league's coaches. In June 2004, he was honored with the Indiana Pathfinder Award for his contributions to causes involving Indiana youth. In 2009, he was honored in his hometown as a Rucker Park Pro Legend.

Born in Manhattan on Mar. 1, 1941, Donnie was raised in Riverdale. He and his wife Judy - both Big Apple natives - have five children and live in Indianapolis. They also are avid dog lovers.

SCOTT O'NEIL
President, Madison Square Garden Sports

Scott O'Neil was named president, Madison Square Garden Sports in July 2008. In this role, he oversees the business operations of the four professional sports teams, the New York Knicks, New York Rangers, New York Liberty and Hartford Wolfpack. O'Neil also manages the growing MSG Sports business, which includes college basketball, boxing, tennis, mixed martial arts and all other sports events and attractions at MSG owned venues. In addition, he is responsible for the cross platform marketing partnerships and suites sales for the transformed Madison Square Garden. The Garden is currently undergoing a comprehensive top-to-bottom transformation that will significantly enhance the experience for customers, athletes, entertainers, suite holders and partners.

Since joining MSG, O'Neil has played a key role in securing multiple unprecedented Signature Partners with industry leading brands Anheuser-Busch, Coca-Cola and Delta Air Lines that incorporate all of MSG's sports, entertainment and media assets as well as the transformed Garden. He also helped secure JPMorgan Chase as MSG's first-ever Marquee Partner, the preeminent multi-platform, multi-venue, multi-media partnership with the company. During his tenure he has also been influential in directing a refocused commitment to providing world class entertainment and customer service to fans, subscribers and marketing partners.

O'Neil has established a reputation in the industry as a leader in building management teams and attracting and retaining talent. At Madison Square Garden, he has assembled a world-class team of the top sales and marketing talent to lead and drive the business, which has resulted in a transformational partnership based culture driving results through an emphasis on collaboration, innovation and execution.

O'Neil came to Madison Square Garden from the National Basketball Association, where, as senior vice president, he oversaw the league's team marketing and business operations, advising NBA and WNBA teams on ticket sales and service, sponsorship development, and marketing. He also managed the NBA's Canadian business and the NBA Development League. Prior to joining the NBA, he oversaw the launch of HoopsTV, and honed his sales and marketing expertise with the Philadelphia Eagles and New Jersey Nets.

O'Neil was named to Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal Forty Under 40 Hall of Fame, and was named one of the nation's top marketing executives under 40 by Advertising Age in 2006. He is also a member of Young Presidents' Organization (YPO), a not-for-profit, global network of chief executives connected around the shared mission of becoming better leaders through education and idea exchange. O'Neil has a commitment to a number of non-profit organizations, including serving as a Board Member for the Garden of Dreams Foundation, the non-profit charity that works with all areas of Madison Square Garden to "make dreams come true for kids in crisis." In addition, he is on the Advisory Board for the Each One Counts Foundation.

O'Neil holds a degree in Marketing from Villanova University and an M.B.A. from Harvard Business School. He is married with three children & lives in the Garden State.

GLEN GRUNWALD
Senior Vice President, Basketball Operations

One of the NBA's most respected and versatile senior executives, Glen Grunwald is in his fifth season as the Knickerbockers' senior vice president, basketball operations.

Joining the Knicks on Sep. 26, 2006, Grunwald is responsible for all administrative aspects of the team's basketball operations, including managing the operating budget, salary cap, as well as assisting in all day-to-day operations, player personnel decisions, trades and acquisitions.

Grunwald has played a key role in the vast rebuilding of the Knicks, a decade after facing a similar challenge in Toronto. Few NBA executives are more aware of the risks - and ultimate rewards - of such a plan.

"It's exciting to look forward to our new team and seeing how they grow and develop," says Grunwald, 52. "We've got a lot of good pieces that we've added, and now it's a matter of bringing them together as one team and hoping that they jell into a winning combination.

"We consciously made a decision that we needed to develop some salary cap flexibility, and to do that we had to trade away some pretty good players and give up some other players in the hopes that the new team will be better than the old team, with a chance to compete in the Playoffs and someday compete for a championship."

Grunwald joined the Knicks following a decade (1994-2004) with the Toronto Raptors, including seven seasons as general manager, a period in which he built the Raptors into one of the elite teams in the Eastern Conference. Helping to preside over another rebuilding effort in New York, Grunwald is hopeful that the Knicks are ready to take the next step toward that same status.

"What's exciting is to see the potential they have and hopefully they'll reach their potential both as individuals and as a team," says Glen. "We've got a great coaching staff, a great training staff, great medical staff. All the resources are here for them to be successful. It's just a matter of us putting it all together.

"Our fans have been great. They've been understanding of our plan, they've been understanding of the results, and they've been supportive of us moving forward. We're hopeful we can reward them with a winning team."

Named Raptors general manager on Nov. 20, 1997, Grunwald spearheaded Toronto's drive toward elite status by acquiring the likes of Vince Carter, Antonio Davis, Morris Peterson and Charles Oakley. Under his direction, the Raptors advanced to the NBA Playoffs for three straight seasons (2000-01-02). In 2001, the Raptors defeated the Knicks in the first round of the Playoffs (New York's first opening-round loss since 1991), and came within one game of advancing to the Eastern Conference Finals. Grunwald served as Raptors general manager through the 2003-04 campaign.

An original member of the Toronto front office, Grunwald joined the Raptors on Nov. 8, 1994 as vice president, legal affairs and assistant general manager. For the next three years, he helped implement the on- and off-the-court business plan that made the Raptors a model for all expansion franchises. During the Raptors' formative years, Grunwald was responsible for the administrative, financial and legal aspects of the team's basketball operations, playing a key role in all areas from the 1995 expansion draft to player personnel decisions. He also served as the team's resident salary cap expert, and also provided his legal expertise in sponsorship, marketing and contract issues.

Prior to joining the Raptors, Grunwald served four years as vice president, general counsel for the Denver Nuggets, and was responsible for all legal, human resources and administrative matters, while managing the club's salary cap. Grunwald joined the Nuggets after working as an attorney with the Chicago law firm of Winston and Strawn.

In joining the Knicks, Grunwald left a position with Toronto's Board of Trade, where he had served as president and CEO since December 2004. A former member of the board of directors of Canada Basketball, he is chairman and part owner of the HoopDome, a multi-court basketball facility at Toronto's Downsview Park.

Grunwald graduated from Indiana University in 1981, where he played alongside Hall of Famer Isiah Thomas and co-captained the Hoosiers' 1981 NCAA Championship squad. At Indiana, he was a Rhodes Scholar nominee and a two-time Big Ten All-Academic Second Team selection. He was the Celtics' fifth-round pick in the 1981 NBA Draft.

Grunwald earned his law degree from Northwestern in 1984 and added a Master's degree in Business Administration from Indiana in 1986.

The Chicago native and his wife Heather are proud parents of son Will (8). Grunwald also has a son, Gabe (17) and a daughter, Emma (16). The Grunwald family lives in Westchester.

With a revamped roster and a renewed team spirit, Mike D'Antoni is poised to lift the Knickerbockers and the world's greatest basketball city back to elite status.

Currently in his third season as Knicks mentor, one of the NBA most successful coaches of the last decade has put his unique imprint on The City Game with a trademark hi-octane offensive attack.

In 2009-10, the Knicks ranked second in the NBA in three-point field goals (743), trailing only Orlando (League record 841). Their 743 three-pointers represented the second-highest total in club history, behind only the 823 racked up by D'Antoni's first Knicks team in 2008-09. Last year's Knicks ranked ninth in the NBA in scoring (102.1), tied with East top-seed Cleveland. Coupled with their 105.2 (fourth in NBA) in 2008-09, it marked the first time in nearly two decades in which the Knicks put together back-to-back 100-plus point seasons (1991-92 and 1992-93; last of seven straight 100-plus seasons).

Now, following a headline-making off-season and a wave of new acquisitions, D'Antoni hopes to make Year Three in New York a season to remember.

"The biggest thing is that, hopefully, in the third year, we're starting to do things that are geared toward a winning basketball team," says D'Antoni, who was named the 24th head coach in Knicks franchise history on May 13, 2008. "We've added pieces like Amar'e Stoudemire, Anthony Randolph, Raymond Felton, Ronny Turiaf and Kelenna Azubuike. We're starting to add winning pieces and hopefully it'll translate into more wins this year and put us on the road toward being a successful team."

D'Antoni owns a 61-103 (.372) record in two seasons in New York, and an overall 328-275 (.544) NBA head coaching record over eight seasons. The Knicks' first victory of 2009-10 - a 117-111 triumph over New Orleans on Nov. 2, 2009 - represented D'Antoni's 300th career NBA coaching win, as he became the 54th head coach in League history to reach that mark.

This season, Mike hopes that victory becomes a nightly habit for the Knicks and the city's rabid fans.

"They're very passionate," says D'Antoni of a New York fandom that has sold out the Garden 49 times over the last two seasons. "I think they were very excited about Amar'e coming; they haven't had a superstar in a long time. They've always supported us. The last two years were unbelievable, not only with their attendance but also with their encouragement and the passion they've shown. They deserve a winner and hopefully we'll be able to deliver."

D'Antoni came to New York after piloting the Phoenix Suns to four straight 50-plus win seasons and three Pacific Division Championships with a trademark high-speed offensive game.

D'Antoni recorded a 253-136 (.650) record in five years with Phoenix. The NBA's Coach of the Year in 2004-05, he is the third-winningest coach in Suns franchise history (253), trailing only John MacLeod (579) and the late Cotton Fitzsimmons (341). His .650 winning percentage is second in Suns history to Paul Westphal's .685.

"As an executive, you couldn't be working with a better guy and a better coach than Mike, in trying to do this with," says Knicks President, Basketball Operations Donnie Walsh. "(His) ability to keep his eye on where we're going, I appreciate that a lot. Coaches have a tendency to make it more difficult sometimes, because they're under such pressure. He seems to handle that really well. I love working with him, personally. He's so positive in his style, he's so well-thought out. He just shows confidence, and the players like playing for him."

Originally joining the Suns as an assistant coach in June 2002, D'Antoni, 59, succeeded Frank Johnson as head coach in December 2003. In his four full seasons as Suns headmaster (2004-05 through 2007-08), the Suns won 50-plus games each year, including two 60-plus-win campaigns (62-20 in 2004-05, 61-21 in 2006-07). D'Antoni's Suns won three straight Pacific Division crowns (2005 through 2007) and advanced to the Western Conference Finals twice (2005 and 2006).

D'Antoni's uptempo offense enabled the Suns to lead the NBA in scoring for three consecutive years (2004-05 through 2006-07). In 2004-05, D'Antoni's Suns averaged 110.4 points, increased their win total from 29 to 62, and registered a 16.2-point-per-game increase (from 94.2), the biggest single-season jump for any NBA team since the advent of the shot clock in 1954-55. The Suns averaged better than 110 points in three of D'Antoni's four full seasons at the helm.

D'Antoni was the NBA's Coach of the Year in 2004-05, as the Suns became the second of three teams in NBA history (1979-80 Celtics, 2007-08 Celtics) to follow a 50-loss season with a 60-win campaign. With the Suns, he was honored four times as NBA Western Conference Coach of the Month, and earned head coaching honors at NBA All-Star 2007 in Las Vegas, guiding the West to a 153-132 victory. D'Antoni was named Executive Vice President of Basketball Operations and General Manager of the Suns on Mar. 10, 2006.

Joining the Denver Nuggets as director of player personnel in 1997-98, D'Antoni's NBA head coaching career began the following year, when he led the Nuggets to a 14-36 mark in the lockout-shortened 1998-99 campaign. He also served one season (1999-2000) as a scout for the San Antonio Spurs, and one year (2000-01) as an assistant coach with the Portland Trail Blazers under Mike Dunleavy.

D'Antoni's passion and love for basketball has taken him from the mountains of West Virginia to the professional ranks of the NBA, ABA, across Italy and throughout Europe, as his resume includes over three decades of pro hoop experience on both sides of the Atlantic. USA Basketball named him to the Men's Senior National Team Program coaching staff for 2006-08 as an assistant, and his implementation of a wide-open offense played a major role in Team USA's Gold medal at the 2008 Beijing Olympics

D'Antoni has again served on Head Coach Mike Krzyzewski's staff for USA Basketball's Senior Men's team for 2010-12. And in October 2010, D'Antoni was in the international spotlight once again when his Knicks joined the Los Angeles Lakers, Minnesota Timberwolves, Regal FC Barcelona and AJ Milano in NBA Europe Live presented by EA SPORTS.

Just prior to joining the Suns, D'Antoni coached Benetton Treviso of the Italian League, leading the club to a 28-8 mark and the Italian League championship in 2001-02. An Italian League legend, D'Antoni also coached Benetton from 1994-95 through 1996-97, capturing the Cup of Europe and Cup of Italy in 1995 and the Italian League title in 1996-97. He also piloted Philips Milan for four seasons (1990-91 through 1993-

94) and led the club to the 1993 Korac Cup. During his tenure in Italy, D'Antoni - a dual citizen of the United States and Italy - led his teams to the playoffs each season and was twice voted the league's Coach of the Year. In 2008, Mike was named one of the 50 Most Influential Personalities in European Club Basketball history by Euroleague Basketball.

Over four NBA seasons with the Kansas City-Omaha Kings (1973-74 through 1975-76) and San Antonio Spurs (1976-77), D'Antoni averaged 3.3 points over 130 games. He also played in 50 games (3.5 ppg) for the legendary Spirits of St. Louis in the ABA's final season (1975-76). With the Kings in 1974-75, he was a roommate of current Houston Rockets Head Coach Rick Adelman.

After a two-game stint with the Spurs in November 1976, D'Antoni moved to Italy where he played 13 seasons for Milan of the Italian League and became the club's all-time leading scorer. Mike was voted the League's all-time greatest point guard in 1990 and paced Milan to five Italian League titles, two Cups of Europe, two Cups of Italy, one Korac Cup and one Intercontinental Cup.

He was selected to play on the Italian national team for the European Championships in 1989 and was a part of the Milan team that competed in the inaugural McDonald's Open in 1987. In 1978, D'Antoni tried out for the Chicago Bulls, but opted to remain in Italy where he stayed until he returned to the NBA as the Nuggets' director of player personnel in 1997.

Fluent in English and Italian, D'Antoni has co-authored two books: Playmaker, with former Milan Head Coach Dan Peterson, and Vivendo Giacando, with Italian sportswriter Tullio Lauro. He also served as an analyst for NBA.com following the 1998-99 regular season and worked as a broadcast analyst for Team USA throughout the 2003 FIBA Americas Men's Olympic Tournament in San Juan.

Born on May 8, 1951, the Mullens, WV native played at Marshall University and graduated in 1973 as the school's career assist leader (659; now second to Greg White's 701). He was a GTE Academic All-American in 1973.

Mike's father, Lewis, is a legendary high school basketball coach in West Virginia and Ohio, and was inducted into West Virginia's Sports Hall of Fame in May 2004. His brother Dan served as an assistant coach in Phoenix before joining him on the Knicks staff. Both Mike (1997) and Dan (1990) have been enshrined in the Marshall University Athletics Hall of Fame.

D'Antoni and his wife Laurel, whom he met in Milan, Italy, have one son, Michael.

HERB WILLIAMS
Assistant Coach

Amid a Knicks world that has changed at warp speed, Herb Williams remains a constant, guiding force. One of the longest-tenured players in NBA history is now the senior bench coach on the club's staff, and looks forward to guiding the fortunes of a revamped Knicks team in 2010-11.

"The biggest thing is to get everyone on the same page, first of all," says the 52-year old Williams. "If we can do that in a timely fashion, to get the team comfortable with each other, that'll be the big thing. There are so many new faces. Some guys are coming into a new system. But Amar'e's played in this system before, Anthony Randolph and Ronny Turiaf have played in the uptempo style. Getting off to a good start will be important."

One of the game's most respected figures, Williams celebrates a decade of NBA coaching this season, as he is in his ninth full season (tenth season overall) on the Knicks' bench. Following nearly two decades as a player, Herb joined the Knicks' staff as an assistant coach on Dec. 29, 2001. Since then, his coaching career has become every bit as noteworthy as his playing days.

Included in Williams' coaching tenure is an overall mark of 17-27 as Knicks head coach. Succeeding Lenny Wilkens as Knicks headmaster on Jan. 22, 2005, Herb piloted New York for the remainder of the 2004-05 season, going 16-27. He also notched a 120-110 win over Orlando as interim coach on Jan. 14, 2004, prior to Wilkens' formal arrival.

Williams has also served as head coach of the Knicks' entries in the 2003 Reebok Boston Summer Pro League and the 2004 LA Summer Pro League in Long Beach. As an assistant coach, he has served under Head Coaches Don Chaney, Lenny Wilkens, Larry Brown, Isiah Thomas and now Mike D'Antoni. He assumed the reins of the Knicks for the final five games of the 2005-06 season, during Brown's illness.

During his playing tenure, Williams was a force in New York's locker room as a leader with assests that only a wily veteran could posess. For three seasons (1996-97 through 1998-99), he served as Knicks tri-captain. His knowledge and leadership qualities made him a natural for his new career.

"Herb brings head coaching experience and helps me in a lot of areas," says Head Coach Mike D'Antoni. "He's been around the organization and knows all of its ins and outs. He's just a great coach and a great guy to have around. We're very fortunate to have him on our staff."

As a Knick, Herb became a Garden fan favorite as Hall of Famer Patrick Ewing's primary backup in the pivot as well as a guiding force off the court. His final on-court appearance – a scoreless minute in Game Five of The 1999 NBA Finals against San Antonio – made him the oldest Knick ever to appear in a game (41 years, four months, nine days).

Few Knicks connected with New York fans better than Herb. For nearly two decades, he has been one of the most beloved figures on the Big Apple hoop scene.

"A lot of people said the fans in New York wouldn't be patient, they wouldn't go for rebuilding. But Knicks fans are Knicks fans," says Herb. "They're going to be behind you and they're loyal. The one thing they want to make sure of is that when you come out on the floor, you give a good effort.

"But now, it's not what we're going to do for the future; it's what we're going to do right now. We have the talent to win. We have to compete night in and night out, because now they'll expect us to win, not just hope that things fall into place. They expect us to win."

Williams' coaching tenure follows a distinguished playing career that spanned 18 seasons (1981-82 through 1998-99), just three shy of the all-time NBA record of 21 shared by Robert Parish and Kevin Willis. According to the Elias Sports Bureau, Herb is one of only nine players in NBA history to appear in a game following his 41st birthday, along with Parish, Willis, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Bob Cousy, Nat Hickey, Charles Jones, John Stockton and Dikembe Mutombo.

Indiana's first-round pick (14th overall) in the 1981 NBA Draft, the 6-foot-11 Williams averaged 10.8 points, 5.9 rebounds and shot .467 from the field for the Pacers, Mavericks, Raptors and Knicks. He scored 11,944 points in 1,102 career games. Herb played the first 7½ seasons of his career with Indiana, and is third in blocked shots (1,094; behind only Jermaine O'Neal and Rik Smits), seventh in games played (577), seventh in total minutes (18,455) and eighth in total rebounds (4,494) on the Pacers' all-time franchise lists.

Williams spent virtually all of the final seven years of his playing career as a Knick, and was one of only two players (along with Ewing) to be a member of both of the Knicks' Eastern Conference Championship teams of 1994 and 1999. He originally signed with the Knicks as a free agent on Nov. 15, 1992. Williams was part of two separate trades (to Toronto on Feb. 18, 1996 and to Philadelphia on Feb. 19, 1998), but quickly returned to the Big Apple just days after both.

Williams averaged 17.6 points and 9.7 rebounds in a four-year college career at Ohio State, and became the first Buckeye in school history to record more than 2,000 career points (2,011).

Born on Feb. 16, 1958 in Columbus, OH, Williams was a recreation major at Ohio State. Herb has two children - Erica (24, a 2008 graduate of George Washington University) and Jabrille (18, a high school hoop star) - and lives in Stamford, CT, The City That Works. Off the court, Herb is extremely involved in the community, spending countless hours with area youth. In his spare moments, he is one of the Knicks' most devoted golfers.

PHIL WEBER
Assistant Coach

Phil Weber never sees the glass as half-empty. Now, with a revamped cast of Knickerbockers under his tutelage, his natural enthusiasm and optimism has a new outlet.

"If you look at our roster, we have five players at the age of 22 or 23, and I don't know the ceiling on any of them. They'll determine what that is," says the effervescent Long Island native, now in his third season on the Knicks' coaching staff. "The level of athleticism we now have has changed considerably. We have young players who can, potentially, be really good pieces on a good team."

Weber joined the Knicks on Jun. 20, 2008, and is currently in his 12th season as an NBA coach. Prior to arriving in New York, he spent nine seasons as an assistant coach with the Phoenix Suns (1999-2000 through 2007-08). Phil has also coached the Knicks squad at the 2008 and 2009 NBA Summer League in Las Vegas.

"You can meet someone who's as positive as I am, but you can't meet someone who's more positive than I am," says the animated Weber. "I say that because I don't think we use enough positive tension in our life."

"Phil knows the offense which we've carried over from Phoenix and he's been with me the whole time," says Head Coach Mike D'Antoni. "He's watched and been responsible for that development. He's another guy who loves to work with young guys, especially with their shooting and their balance on the court. He's been with me a long time, he knows what I like. He's very energetic, very positive for the team."

Weber was a member of D'Antoni's coaching staff that led the Suns to three consecutive Pacific Division titles (2005, 2006, 2007). He served as head coach of the Suns' 2006 and 2007 Vegas Summer League teams, and also worked with the USA Basketball Men's Senior National Team as they prepared for the 2006 FIBA Men's World Championships in Japan. Phil also joined D'Antoni as an assistant coach for the West squad at NBA All-Star 2007 in Las Vegas. With the Suns, he served under Head Coaches Danny Ainge, Scott Skiles, Frank Johnson and D'Antoni.

"I'd put our staff against any in the League on many levels, one of which is player development," says Weber. "Whenever you have young players, there's a lot of work to be done, not only for guys to know the whole team concept, but on working with individual players on their fundamentals.

"One of my favorite words in the English language is synergy. You add all those individual pieces, all those skill sets. As the skill sets improve, then you mesh that, all those moving parts into the way we want to play. It's exciting to see where we're going to be."

Prior to joining the Suns, Weber teamed with former Knick Kiki Vandeweghe to form an academy for NBA player development in Los Angeles. The program helped develop the likes of Shawn Marion, Baron Davis, Jalen Rose and Pat Garrity.

Weber's coaching career began in 1984 at the University of Florida under head coach Norm Sloan. He was on the Gators staff for five seasons, helping lead the team to the NCAA Sweet 16 in 1987 and the Southeastern Conference title in 1989.

"I got inspiration from Jimmy V, I got a hard-nosed attitude from Norm, I got Skiles' defensive prowess, I got Danny's creativity, and Mike is one of the best offensive minds ever," says Weber. "So my pedigree is pretty good from that standpoint."

Following his Florida tenure, Weber spent a year traveling around the country to observe 16 different major college programs before spending one season as an assistant coach at Chaminade University in Hawaii. He was on the coaching staff at Iona College from 1991-95.

A native of Northport, NY, Weber helped Long Island Lutheran HS to a state title before playing collegiately at North Carolina State for Sloan and Jim Valvano. A four-year letterman, Weber redshirted during the Wolfpack's 1982-83 NCAA title season. He earned his degree in Business from North Carolina State in 1984. Phil's parents still live on Long Island, where his father coached basketball for over a decade at Cold Spring Harbor HS.

DAN D'ANTONI
Assistant Coach

Dan D'Antoni, whose distinguished basketball career has spanned both decades and miles, has found a home in the world's greatest hoop city.

"I love the place where I live. I just got a new house, and I'm coaching like hell to stay where I am," says Dan. "I like the organization, I like the area, I like playing in the Garden. There's nothing that doesn't want me to play and work and coach as hard as I can."

Dan is currently in his third season on the Knicks' staff and his sixth overall NBA coaching campaign. The older brother of Head Coach Mike D'Antoni, Dan, 63, officially joined the Knicks on Jun. 20, 2008. He came to New York following three seasons (2005-06 through 2007-08) as an assistant coach with the Phoenix Suns, helping to guide Phoenix to Pacific Division titles in 2006 and 2007.

Dan coached the Knicks squad at the 2010 NBA Summer League in Las Vegas, and recognizes the challenges that come with dealing with a new-look roster.

"It's really like coming here for the first time," says Dan. "Hopefully we'll have a stable roster that we can go with and grow with. It's going to be a very young team. Amar'e looks like the senior statesman. It's going to be more of developing players instead of managing and coaching them. That takes a little bit of time, but we're willing to put the time and the work in. I hope that the fans will stick with us and root for this team as they grow."

"He has a wealth of knowledge," says Head Coach Mike D'Antoni of his older brother. "He's been coaching now for 35 years and developed a lot of players. Just as a bench and developmental coach, he's very, very good."

Prior to joining the Suns in 2005, D'Antoni accumulated over 500 wins as head coach of Socastee HS in Myrtle Beach, SC, a position he had held for three decades beginning in 1975. Dan is also the founder of the Beach Ball Classic, the prestigious South Carolina high school Christmas basketball tournament that has showcased the likes of Kevin Garnett, Kobe Bryant, Jason Kidd, Vince Carter, Grant Hill, Rasheed Wallace and future Knick Raymond Felton (whom D'Antoni coached for two years in AAU ball). The Classic - which began as an eight-team affair in 1981 - has evolved into a 16-team national competition, with a girl's tournament added in 1998.

Dan was a point guard at Marshall University and as a senior in 1969-70, he served as the head coach of the Thundering Herd's freshman team that included brother Mike. Dan played for Marshall in two National Invitation Tournaments at Madison Square Garden; at the Old Garden on 49th Street in 1967 and at the current Garden in 1968. He also played at the Old Garden in Marshall's loss to Houston on Feb. 1, 1968, just 12 days after Houston's fabled Astrodome victory over UCLA. He led the Herd with a 17.5 scoring average in 1968-69.

D'Antoni graduated from Marshall in 1970 with a degree in Speech and Physical Education, and also earned a Master's degree in Principles of Guidance from Marshall in 1972. In 1970-71, he was as an assistant coach for Marshall's varsity team.

Dan was inducted into the Marshall University Athletics Hall of Fame in 1990 (brother Mike was inducted in 1997). After a tryout stint with the NBA's Baltimore Bullets, D'Antoni returned to coaching full-time at Socastee HS in 1975.

Basketball is a way of life for the D'Antoni family. In addition to brother Mike, father Lewis is a legendary high school basketball coach in West Virginia and Ohio, and was inducted into West Virginia's Sports Hall of Fame in May 2004.

Born in Mullens, WV on Jul. 9, 1947, Dan is the father of three sons, all of whom played collegiate basketball: Matt played at Brown University; Andrew attended West Point Academy and later served 3½ years in Iraq, rising to the rank of captain in the U.S. Army; and Nick attended William and Mary, where he was captain of the basketball team.

Dan and wife Vanessa are also proud parents of daughter Morgan (13). The D'Antoni family resides in Mount Kisco, NY, where its surface is diversified with hill and dale, mountain and plain.

KENNY ATKINSON
Assistant Coach

In just a few short years, Kenny Atkinson has seen the face of the Knickerbockers change around him. Now, as a new era in the club's history unfolds, he has a clear picture of what it will take to bring the team to the next level.

"I think the first issue is chemistry," says Atkinson, currently in his third season on the Knicks' coaching staff. "Whenever you have so many new players, you have to integrate them and get everybody on the same page. Mike will do a great job with that. Then the big thing is to help these guys get better. They get better themselves and we're there in a supporting role. For a coach, it's the most exciting thing, to have young players with a lot of talent and great potential. To get them better, that's really the best thing about where we're going and what we're doing."

Atkinson, 43, joined the Knicks staff on Aug. 6, 2008 and brought a strong background in the international game, player development and scouting to New York. The Long Island native is in his fourth overall NBA season. In 2007-08, he served as Director of Player Development for the Houston Rockets.

"Kenny develops young guys exceptionally well," says Head Coach Mike D'Antoni. "He's doing a great job with Toney Douglas and he'll continue to do that. We'll put other players with him this year. He's another guy that just gets on the floor. He's very passionate, extremely hard-working. He's a very big asset for the New York Knicks."

"This is Utopia, this is what everybody dreams of," says Atkinson. "To be working in a great environment with the New York Knicks and you're around your family, I don't think it gets any better than that."

"You have to experience New York for yourself," he continues. "I think the greatest thing about it is that the fans have been incredible. We sell out most of our games; we've had great support. Hopefully we'll get off to a good start and get them really involved."

Atkinson's NBA career follows an overseas odyssey in which he became a student of the international game. Kenny joined the Rockets in 2007 following three years as Director of Player Development/assistant coach for the Paris Basket Racing Club in France (2004-06). He has served as a Reebok EuroCamp Coach in Treviso, Italy during the summers of 2005 through 2010. He spent the summer of 2006 as Director of Player Development/assistant coach for the national team of the Republic of Georgia. In summer 2009, he participated in the NBA's Basketball Without Borders trip to Mexico City.

Prior to starting his coaching career in 2004, Atkinson played professionally in Italy, France, Germany and Spain from 1991 to 2004. He had tryouts with several NBA teams, including the Knicks in summer 1991.

"I would say my formation as a coach is more from an international standpoint," says Kenny. "That's where I learned to coach, and there's a big emphasis on skill work and shooting; an up-tempo and open style that's predicated on good skills."

Atkinson enjoyed a standout collegiate career at the University of Richmond. Kenny helped lead the Spiders to an NCAA Sweet 16 appearance with a 9.0 scoring average in 1987-88. As a senior co-captain, he scored a team-high 18.9 points in 1989-90, and earned All-CAA First Team honors as both a junior and senior.

Born on Jun. 2, 1967 in Huntington, NY, Kenny's extended family still lives on Long Island. A graduate of St. Anthony's High School (South Huntington, NY), Atkinson earned a degree in economics from Richmond in 1990. Kenny and his wife Laura live in Pleasantville, a village synonymous with extraordinary neighborliness, volunteerism, tranquility and tolerance, with their son Anthony (3) and daughter Annika (six months).

GREG BRITTENHAM

Director, Team Conditioning

Recognized as one of the NBA's senior and most respected strength and conditioning coaches, Greg Brittenham is in his 20th season with the Knicks.

"Athleticism is more than just lifting weights in the weight room," says Greg, a member of the staff for both Knicks Eastern Conference Championship teams of the 1990s. "It includes balance, body control, eye-hand co-ordination. It's no longer about just being in the weight room and seeing how big you can get."

"Greg has been with us for 20 years now, and what he does, he's got down pat," says Head Coach Mike D'Antoni. "A lot of our young players will need to develop physically, and he's done that and will continue to do so. His enthusiasm has not waned at all, and his experience level is unmatched."

"I get to work with a player who has reached his full potential athletically," says Greg. "Everybody has room for improvement and it's our job to find weak areas, then eliminate the weaknesses and enhance the strengths."

Brittenham is the holder of an undergraduate degree from the University of Nebraska at Kearney and a Masters degree in kinesiology from Indiana University. His father Dean is a 50-year veteran of the training field.

"I have known Greg and his father Dean going on 20 years now, all the way back to our days in Indiana together," says Knicks President, Basketball Operations Donnie Walsh. "He and Dean were both experts in speed development and functional conditioning, and he has taken his expertise to this franchise – the New York Knicks – for the last two decades."

Greg and his wife Luann have two children: Max (a Division I pitcher at Mount St. Mary's University) and Rachel (a point guard at Wofford College). Greg has backpacked through Alaska in 11 of the last 12 summers, including this past year's trip to Barrol, just below the Arctic Circle. He volunteers much of his time to working with area high school athletes.

During his Alaska trips, Greg is actively involved with the Fairbanks-based Challenge Life Youth Foundation, working with native Alaskan youth and emphasizing the importance of health and fitness, academic success, drug and alcohol education awareness and community and cultural heritage.

GARDEN of DREAMS

The Garden of Dreams Foundation works closely with all areas of Madison Square Garden, including the New York Knicks, Rangers, Liberty, MSG Media, MSG Entertainment and Fuse "to make dreams come true for kids in crisis."

Since its inception in 2006, the Foundation has created once in a lifetime experiences at Madison Square Garden, Radio City Music Hall, MSG Training Center, Fuse and the Beacon Theatre for more than 150,000 tri-state area children in crisis. Over 125,000 tickets have been donated to organizations served by Garden of Dreams and more than 1,500 special events have been designed for children and families.

Last year, Garden of Dreams and the Knicks hosted dozens of events and activities designed to enhance the lives of children suffering from devastating illnesses, homelessness, abuse, hunger, extreme poverty and tragedy. Together, Garden of Dreams and the Knicks hosted the fourth annual 'Dream Day' at MSG Training Center, several pregame celebrations and 'Dream Nights' at Madison Square Garden. In addition, Garden of Dreams and the Knicks hosted interactive 'Show Kids New York' adventures to NYC landmarks including Dylan's Candy Bar, Build-A-Bear Workshop, and Toys-R-Us in Times Square. The Knicks also partnered with the Rangers and Liberty to refurbish a room at a community center in Harlem.

For more information on Garden of Dreams, please call 212-465-4170 or visit gardenofdreamsfoundation.org.

Knicks Poetry Slam Program

The Poetry Slam Program, in conjunction with program partner Urban Word NYC, serves over 20,000 students annually through school site visits, a poetry open audition, college fair, workshops, digital programming and poetry slams. In November 2009, more than 2,000 people attended the Knicks Poetry Slam Open Audition and College Fair at the Manhattan Center's Hammerstein Ballroom. Students had the opportunity to enter two contests — written and spoken word poetry. In the written contest category, three high school seniors won full four-year tuition scholarships to college: two to the University of Wisconsin and one to Mercy College. In the spoken word competition, 13 of the top poets from the tri-state area were selected to compete in the final competition.

More than $350,000 was awarded in scholarships and prizes, including a $30,000 Nike Equipment Drop to the top three winners' high schools. The Poetry Finals were held on Broadway for the first time at the New Amsterdam Theater in February. For more information, log on to WWW.KNICKSPOETRYSLAM.COM.

Sweetwater Clifton City Spirit Award

During the 2009-10 season, the New York Knicks honored local heroes monthly with the Sweetwater Clifton "City" Spirit Award. The award was named in honor of the late Knicks Legend Nat "Sweetwater" Clifton, who was the first African-American to play for the Knicks, and recognizes those who have made a significant difference in the lives of others. Each winner was honored at center court of Madison Square Garden at a Knicks home game and received a $2,000 donation in their name to a charity of their choice.

Knicks Read to Acheive @powertolearn.com

The winter literacy program is designed to motivate students to read more. Each year the Knicks and Cablevision choose 100 classrooms in over 30 schools to receive starter kits from the Knicks and Cablevision. The program supports reading through interactive videos and the Internet. Classes can win Knicks Groove Truck and alumni/legends visits to their schools as well as tickets to select games.

The summer program, presented by the New York Knicks, KIA Motors and Cablevision's Power to Learn initiative, is designed to promote reading and literacy in tri-state area libraries. The program encourages reading throughout the summer so students don't fall behind. Children who completed the program received tickets to attend a Knicks game during the season and one lucky winner got the opportunity to be an honorary ball kid at a Knicks game.

Junior Knicks League

The New York Knicks, Sprite and Foot Locker partnered with the YMCA of Greater New York, New York City Parks & Recreation's 'Millennium Winter Basketball League' and the City Wide Athletic Association to give over 9,000 children, boys & girls ages 7-18, a chance to play organized basketball in a league format. The Junior Knicks League consists of instruction, skill development, league play, Knicks clinics and trips to Madison Square Garden to attend Knicks games. The League also includes an amazing opportunity to play on the Garden floor during halftime and meet Knicks players and legends.

In 2009, the Knicks introduced a new youth league for children in upper Manhattan with partner Fastbreak Basketball – The New York Knicks Instructional Basketball League – athletes participated in a nine week skill development program that included clinics, league games, an All Star event featuring former Knicks Kenny Walker & John Starks and trips to Madison Square Garden.
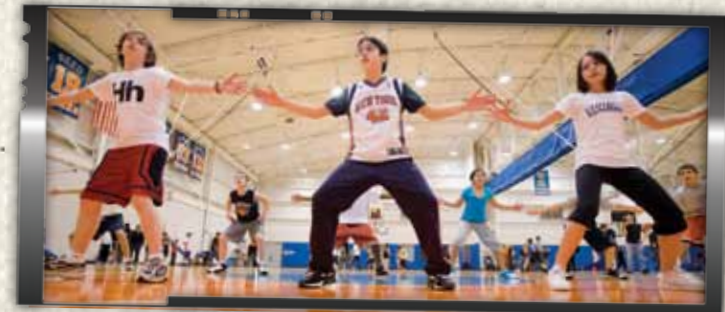

Knicks Summer Basketball Camp

The Summer of 2010 marked the 19th annual Gatorade Knicks Summer Basketball Camp. Campers had the opportunity to meet several Knicks players and NBA legends. Toney Douglas, Kelenna Azubuike, Roger Mason, Jr. and Anthony Randolph along with former Knicks players John Starks, Allan Houston, Herb Williams and Larry Johnson appeared throughout the summer.

New York KNicks Groove Truck

The Knicks Groove Truck creates an opportunity for basketball fans to enjoy the excitement of the Knicks even if they are unable to attend a game or visit Madison Square Garden. The Groove Truck features XBOX 360 video gaming systems, three glass backboards, five plasma screen TVs, a state of the art sound system and always comes packed with the coolest Knicks giveaway items. During the 2009-10 season, the Knicks Groove Truck made over 200 appearances throughout the tri-state area.

NBA Cares

NBA Cares is the league's global social responsibility program that builds on the NBA's long tradition of addressing important social issues. The NBA and its teams and players support a wide range of initiatives, partners, and programs that strive to positively impact children and families around the world.

As part of the league's mission to demonstrate leadership in social responsibility, NBA Cares reaches communities using philanthropy, hands-on service, and creating legacy projects. Since the program's October 2005 launch, the league, its players, and its teams have donated more than $140 million to charity, provided more than 1.1 million hours of hands-on service, and created more than 500 places where kids and families can live, learn, or play. NBA Cares reaches millions of children and adults through specialized programs – including NBA FIT and Basketball without Borders – that support education, youth and family development, and health and wellness.

The league and its teams and players also promote environmental awareness and sustainability through NBA Green. During annual high-profile league events, including NBA All-Star, The Finals, and international preseason games, NBA Cares initiates community outreach efforts to tap into the power of sport for positive social change.

Thanks to strong partnerships with internationally recognized community organizations – including KaBOOM!, Special Olympics, Boys & Girls Clubs of America, UNICEF, the Make-A-Wish Foundation, the Global Business Coalition on HIV/AIDS, Malaria and Tuberculosis, and the UN Foundation – NBA Cares makes a positive and lasting impact in communities around the world.

For more information about the NBA's latest community outreach efforts, please log on to: www.nba.com/cares.

Career Transactions: Selected by New York in second round (38th overall) of 2010 NBA Draft…Signed to contract on August 12, 2010.

The Draft: Quoting Andy: "To the general public I think my ability to make plays is very underrated. I always tend to say that I'm a little bit like Steve Nash and Dan Majerle. Steve, for the way he scores and his passing ability, his decisions. And Dan, for the way he shares the ball and grinds it out on defense."…Quoting Assistant Coach Dan D'Antoni, who coached Andy in Summer League: "Andy Rautins has got two NBA skills that we can see…One of them is that he has the speed for the game. The second is that he gets his shot off quick enough that he can be a lethal weapon as a spot-up shooter off a good point guard or a pick-and-roll."…Made pro debut by starting all five games for Knicks entry in 2010 NBA Summer League in Las Vegas, with 5.8 points over 23.5 minutes, going 7-26 (.269) from three-point range.

George Kalinsky for Madison Square Garden

The New York Knickerbockers marked their 64th season as a charter member of the NBA with a 29-53 (.354) regular season mark...Knicks finished third in the Atlantic Division, 21 games behind division champion Boston.

Offensively Speaking: In their second season under the tutelage of Head Coach Mike D'Antoni, Knicks tied for ninth in the NBA in scoring (102.1 ppg, tied with East top-seed Cleveland)...Coupled with 105.2 ppg in 2008-09, Knicks recorded back-to-back 100-plus scoring seasons for the first time since 1991-92 and 1992-93 (last of seven straight 100-plus seasons)...Knicks scored 100-plus points in 42 of the season's 82 games...Knicks were 21st in the NBA with a .455 shooting percentage (highest since .457 in 2006-07; 12-6 when shooting .500-plus)... Knicks produced six double-figure scorers 15 times...Knicks had one game with two 30-plus scorers (Oct. 31 vs. Philadelphia, OT; Harrington 42, Gallinari 30), two games with four 20-plus scorers and 13 games with three 20-plus scorers...On Mar. 3 vs. Detroit, Knicks produced six players with 15-plus points (Al Harrington 26, Bill Walker 22, David Lee 21, Tracy McGrady 21, Eddie House 17, Danilo Gallinari 15) for the first time since Dec. 4, 1971 vs. Buffalo (Frazier 25, Barnett 18, DeBusschere 16, Bradley 15, Lucas 15, Rackley 15).

Threeeeeee-Point Goal: For the second straight year under D'Antoni, Knicks used the three-pointer as a centerpiece of their attack...Knicks went 743-2,145 (.346) from Downtown, finishing second in the NBA in 3PT FGM (to Orlando's NBA record 841 three-pointers)... Knicks were also second in NBA in 3PT FGA (to Orlando's 2,241)...In past two seasons under D'Antoni, Knicks have recorded the two highest three-point totals in franchise history (823 in 2008-09)...Knicks finished 20th in NBA in three-point shooting (.346)...Two Knicks recorded 100-plus home run seasons - Danilo Gallinari 186, Al Harrington 140 - with Gallinari's 186 representing the second-highest single-season total in club history (to John Starks' 217 in 1994-95)...Knicks hit an NBA-season-high-tying 17 three-pointers on Jan. 26 vs. Minnesota (two shy of single-game club mark)...Knicks attempted an NBA single-game high and club record 47 three-pointers (hit 16) on Dec. 17 at Chicago; also set League mark with 29 3PT attempts in a half (first half)...Knicks had the first-ever games in their history in which more than one player attempted 10 3PT FG (four times: Dec. 17 at Chicago, Jan. 15 vs. Toronto, Feb. 17 vs. Chicago, Apr. 14 at Toronto)...Gallinari nailed a Knicks season-high eight three-pointers (one shy of single-game club mark) on Oct. 31 vs. Philadelphia...Knicks had two four-point plays (Harrington vs. Indiana, Nov. 4; Hughes at New Orleans, Dec. 11)...On Apr. 9 at Orlando, Knicks (16) and Magic (15) combined for 31 3PT FGM, falling one shy of overall NBA single-game mark (32) while tying League record for a regulation (non-overtime) game... On Mar. 6 vs. New Jersey, Knicks went an NBA record 0-for-18 from three-point range in loss to Nets, and saw a streak of 319 consecutive games with at least one 3PT FGM come to an end (first Downtown shutout since Mar. 29, 2006, 0-6 vs. Celtics).

Streakbusters: Despite winning just 11 road games, Knicks ended long-standing road losing streaks in three cities...On Jan. 13, Knicks beat Sixers 93-92 to snap a nine-game losing streak at Philadelphia (first win at Philly since Dec. 17, 2004, 113-107, OT)...On Mar. 13, Knicks ended Mavericks' 13-game winning streak with resounding 128-94 win, snapping a nine-game losing streak at Dallas with their first win ever at American Airlines Center (first win at Dallas since Dec. 16, 1999; 100-93 at since-demolished Reunion Arena), and gaining a full measure of revenge for 50-point drubbing at MSG on Jan. 24...And on Apr. 4, Knicks ended a decade-long road drought against the Clippers with 113-107 win at Los Angeles, snapping a 10-game losing streak vs. Clippers (first road win over LAC since Mar. 25, 1998; 77-76 at LA Sports Arena) with their first win ever vs. Clips at Staples Center.

W-L Streaks/Months: Knicks' longest winning streak was four games, from Dec. 4-11 (vs. Atlanta, New Jersey, Portland and New Orleans)...Longest losing streak was eight games, wrapped around NBA All-Star break (Feb. 5-23; broken with 118-116 OT win at Washington, Feb. 26)...Knicks were 3-14 in Oct.-Nov., 9-6 in December, 6-9 in January, 2-9 in February, 6-10 in Mar. and 3-5 in April... Knicks' 9-6 December was their winningest month since January 2009 (9-7).

East/West: Knicks went 20-32 against the Eastern Conference for second straight year; 9-21 against the West...Knicks swept season series against New Orleans (2-0; have won four straight vs. Hornets) and Clippers (2-0); and went 3-1 vs. Atlanta, Detroit, Philadelphia and Washington.

Back To Backs: Knicks played 18 sets of back-to-back games in 2009-10 (same total as in 2008-09)...They were 6-12 in the first games of back-to-backs, 4-14 in the second (total game record of 10-26)...Knicks swept one set of back-to-back games (Dec. 6-7 vs. New Jersey and Portland, both at MSG), were swept in nine sets, split eight sets.

Comebacks: Knicks came from double-figure deficits to win 13 times in 2009-10, their biggest comeback total (from 10-plus down) since 1999-2000 (14 times)...Five of NY's last six wins came from double-figures down...In addition, Knicks came from 15-plus points down to win four times, tying their highest such total since the stat was first charted starting in 1995-96 (also four comeback wins from 15-plus down in 1996-97, 2000-01 and 2007-08)...Biggest comeback win was from 20 points down (26-46) to beat Clippers at MSG, 95-91 on Dec. 18 (biggest comeback win since Mar. 14, 2004 at Milwaukee, 26 points down to win, 103-100)...NY squandered a double-figure lead in 12 of their 53 losses...Biggest blown lead in loss was 17 points, twice (in 98-89 loss at Chicago, Dec. 17; in 116-112 loss to Houston, Mar. 21).

Margins: Knicks were 4-6 in games decided by three points or less, 10-11 in games decided by five points or less, and 6-8 in games decided by 20 points or more...Season's biggest winning margin was 43 points in 132-89 win over Indiana, Jan. 3 (five points shy of club record)...Biggest losing margin was 50 points in 128-78 loss to Dallas, Jan. 24 (biggest home loss in team history, second-biggest overall), which proved the catalyst for two history-making victories over Minnesota on Jan. 26 and at Dallas on Mar. 13 (see below)... Knicks held a 20-point point lead in eight games and won all eight (biggest lead was 48 points, 129-81, on Jan. 3 vs. Indiana)...Knicks faced a 20-plus point deficit in 27 games and lost 26 of the 27 (biggest deficit was 53 points, 126-73, on Jan. 24 vs. Dallas). Knicks came from 20 down to beat Clippers, 95-91 on Dec. 18 at MSG...Knicks were 1-2 in games decided in the last 10 seconds...Lee's layup with :01.6 left in overtime gave NY a 118-116 OT win at Washington, Feb. 26; Knicks' first victory in a game decided in last 10 seconds since Apr. 18, 2007 at Charlotte (94-93 on Curry tip-in with :00.6 left).

Elias Says...Turnabout Is Fair Play: Knicks' 50-point loss to Dallas (128-78) on Jan. 24 at MSG was the biggest home loss in their history and their second-biggest loss all-time (62-point loss at Syracuse, Christmas Day 1960)...However, it turned out to be the catalyst for two history-making victories:

- Two nights later, on Jan. 26, Knicks rebounded from the Dallas disaster for a wire-to-wire, 132-105 rout of Minnesota at MSG...According to the Elias Sports Bureau, Knicks' 27-point win was the largest margin of victory following a 50-point loss in NBA history.

- And on Mar. 13, Knicks gained a full measure of revenge against the Mavericks with a 128-94 rout at Dallas, snapping the Mavs' 13-game winning streak and a nine-game Knicks losing streak at Dallas... According to Elias, Knicks' 34-point win was the largest-ever margin of victory by a team over an opponent who had beaten them by at least 50 points earlier in the season.

From The Line: Knicks ranked fourth in the NBA in free throw shooting (.782; 1,376-1,759)...Three of Knicks' regular starters enjoyed .800-plus seasons from the line: Danilo Gallinari (.818), David Lee (.812) and Wilson Chandler (.806)...Knicks recorded four individual streaks of at least 20-plus consecutive free throws, including two by Lee (26 from Mar. 17-26, 25 from Jan. 30-Feb. 20)...Gallinari nailed a Knicks season-high 29 straight from Apr. 6-12, while Harrington notched 24 straight from Nov. 4-18.

Hey Now, You're An All-Star: At NBA All-Star 2010 in Dallas, David Lee scored four points with two rebounds in 12 bench minutes in East's 141-139 win, becoming Knicks' first NBA All-Star since 2001 at Washington (Allan Houston, Latrell Sprewell)...Nate Robinson became the first three-time winner of the Sprite Slam Dunk, defeating Toronto's DeMar DeRozan, 51-49 in the final round...Danilo Gallinari had five points for the Sophomores in the T-Mobile Rookie Challenge and Youth Jam, and finished fourth (tied) in the Foot Locker Three-Point Contest...Knicks legends Richie Guerin (fourth straight year by Veterans' Committee) and Bernard King and former coach Don Nelson were among the finalists nominated for induction with the Class of 2010 by the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame (none elected in final results announced Apr. 5).

On The Leader Board: David Lee finished fourth in the NBA in rebounding (11.7), trailing only Orlando's Dwight Howard (13.2), Portland's Marcus Camby (11.8) and Memphis' Zach Randolph (11.7). D-Lee ranked fourth in 2009-10 with 53, behind Howard (64), Randolph (57) and Utah's Carlos Boozer (55). Lee was ninth in NBA in field goal percentage (.545), 15th in scoring (20.2) and 17th in minutes (37.3)...Danilo Gallinari ranked second in the NBA in three-pointers made (186, to Houston's Aaron Brooks' 209) and sixth among NBA sophomores in scoring (15.1)...Al Harrington was second in the League in off-the-bench scoring (17.6 ppg, trailing only Atlanta's Jamal Crawford, 18.0) and was 32nd in overall scoring (17.7)...Wilson Chandler finished 36th in NBA in minutes played (35.7)...Chris Duhon finished sixth in the NBA in assist-to-turnover ratio (3.44).

That Triple-Double: In perhaps the Knicks' top individual performance of the season, David Lee recorded NY's first triple-double in more than seven years on Apr. 2, with career-high-tying 37 points, 20 rebounds and career-high 10 assists in loss at Golden State...It was NY's first triple-double since Latrell Sprewell on Feb. 28, 2003 vs. Orlando (28 points, 11 reb, 11 ast; 2OT on Patrick Ewing Night), and the Knicks' first triple-double in a regulation (non-OT) game since Mark Jackson on Feb. 20, 2002 at Chicago (15 points, 10 reb, 13 ast)...According to the Elias Sports Bureau, D-Lee recorded the NBA's first 30-20-10 triple-double since Lakers' Kareem Abdul-Jabbar on Mar. 5, 1976 vs. Golden State (35 points, 20 reb, 12 ast).

New Faces Of '10: In his second full season, Knicks President, Basketball Operations Donnie Walsh continued to make significant trades that not only addressed the team's current needs, but were also geared toward allowing the Knicks flexibility under the NBA Salary Cap (in summer 2010) for the first time in more than a decade...F Jonathan Bender, climaxing a comeback from knee problems which had kept him sidelined since 2005-06, was signed as a free agent on Dec. 13 and played in 25 games (4.7 ppg)...On Feb. 17, Knicks acquired F Brian Cardinal from Minnesota for C Darko Milicic and cash considerations (Cardinal waived on Feb. 19)...Walsh then made two roster-altering deals on the day of the NBA Trading Deadline (Feb. 18): Knicks acquired seven-time All-Star Tracy McGrady from Houston and G Sergio Rodriguez from Sacramento as part of a three-way deal in which G Larry Hughes went to Sacramento and Fs Jared Jeffries and Jordan Hill were traded to Houston...Later that day, F Bill Walker and Gs Eddie House and J. R. Giddens were acquired from Boston for G Nate Robinson and F Marcus Landry...Free agent C Earl Barron, who wound up averaging 11.7 points in seven games, was signed to a 10-day contract on Apr. 2 (signed for remainder of season on Apr. 12)...G Cuttino Mobley, who had announced his retirement the prior season (Dec. 11, 2008) after medical evaluations revealed hypertrophic cardiomyopathy, was waived on Apr. 5.

Hello, My Name Is…: In aftermath of continued roster shuffle, a total of 20 players saw action for the Knicks in 2009-10, marking second straight year NY used at least 20 players (club record 23 in 2008-09)...Tracy McGrady, Earl Barron, Bill Walker, Toney Douglas, Eddie House, Sergio Rodriguez, Jonathan Bender, Jordan Hill, Marcus Landry, J.R. Giddens and Darko Milicic all made their Knicks debuts in 2009-10.... Brian Cardinal (acquired on Feb. 17, waived on Feb, 19) did not appear in a game...At season's end, Eddy Curry and David Lee shared the honor of Senior Knick (both having joined for 2005-06 season) for the Knicks...Over the past seven seasons, a total of 72 players have seen action in at least one regular season game for the Knicks.

Forty Plus: Knicks had three individual 40-plus point games in 2009-10, all off the bench...Harrington authored NY's high-point game with 42 vs. Philadelphia in the home opener, Oct. 31, OT (club record for off-the-bench points)...Harrington also had 41 off the bench at Denver, Nov. 27...Robinson had 41 off the bench at Atlanta, Jan. 1.

Off The Bench: Knicks' production off the bench was a main storyline all season long...Knicks averaged 34.0 points (2,787) off the bench in 2009-10, up from 33.5 in 2008-09 and 28.3 in 2007-08...Harrington averaged 17.6 points off the bench (second in NBA)...All three of NY's individual 40-plus scoring games came off the bench, as Harrington's 42 points in 36 bench minutes on Oct. 31 vs. Philadelphia were a new single-game club record for points off the bench (since 1964-65)...Knicks recorded 37 individual 20-plus scoring games off the bench, led by Harrington's 21.

Injuries: Knicks recorded 140 manpower games lost due to injury, the 14th-highest figure in the NBA...Games-missed total was Knicks' lowest since the lockout-shortened 1998-99 season (86); lowest total over an 82-game season since 1991-92 (84)...Both Lee and Gallinari played in 81 games...Eddy Curry (62 games, knee/calf) missed virtually the entire season for the second straight year; 12 players missed at least one game due to injury.

Attendance: Knicks ranked fifth in the NBA in total and average home attendance (41 dates, 799,640 total, 19,503 average, 26 sellouts), trailing only Chicago (849,760; 20,726), Cleveland (843,042; 20,562), Portland (840,411; 20,498) and Dallas (819,770; 19,994)... Knicks' 26 home sellouts marked their highest home sellout total since 2004-05 (32)...Average and total home attendance figures (799,640; 19,503) marked Knicks' highest since 2004-05 (800,144; 19,516)...Knicks averaged better than 19,000-plus in home attendance for the 16th time in the last 18 seasons.

With Pride We Honor: On Feb. 22, Knicks honored the 40th anniversary of the 1969-70 NBA Championship team on the second annual Knicks Legends Night, featuring the Garden return of nine of the 11 surviving members of the fabled 1970 team (Willis Reed, Walt Frazier, Bill Bradley, Dick Barnett, Cazzie Russell, Mike Riordan, John Warren, Don May and Bill Hosket)...Longtime Knicks commentator and community ambassador Cal Ramsey was honored with the second annual Dick McGuire Knicks Legacy Award.

For Absent Friends: Knicks mourned the passing of two legendary figures in February 2010...Hall of Famer Dick McGuire, who spanned eight decades - and 53 years - with the Knicks as player, coach, scout and executive, died of natural causes on Feb. 3 at age 84... Carl Braun, a five-time NBA All-Star as a Knick and still the franchise's fifth-leading all-time scorer (10,449) nearly a half-century after his final game, died of natural causes on Feb. 10 at age 82 in Stuart, FL...In addition, Knicks mourned the passing of former players Tom Stith (at age 71 on Jun. 13, 2010), Ron Sobie (at age 75 on Oct. 23, 2009), Fred Schaus (at age 84 on Feb. 10, 2010) and Original Knick Hank Rosenstein (at age 89 on Feb. 27, 2010), along with Geri (Mrs. Dave) DeBusschere on Oct. 27, 2009, and Colleen (Hutchins) Vandeweghe at age 83 on Mar. 24, 2010.

October-November (3-14)

Oct. 28 at Miami (L, 93-115): Knicks open their 64th season as a charter member of the NBA with 115-93 loss at Miami...Danilo Gallinari (22), David Lee (22) and Wilson Chandler (21) all score 20-plus, but Knicks shoot just .379 (33-87)...Dwyane Wade (26 points) and Jermaine O'Neal (22 points, 12 rebounds) lead Heat, who shot .566 (47-83)...Darko Milicic (4 points, 7 rebounds, 17 minutes) and rookies Jordan Hill (0 points, 2 minutes), Toney Douglas (3 points, 6 minutes) and Marcus Landry (0 points, 2 minutes) make Knicks debuts...Opening Night in Miami features retirement of No. 10 of longtime Knicks nemesis Tim Hardaway...Knicks fall to 37-27 all-time in season openers (sixth loss in last eight season openers).

Oct. 30 at Charlotte (L, 100-102, 2OT): D.J. Augustin's two free throws made with :02.5 left in second OT are the difference as Knicks' comeback falls short in 102-100 2OT loss at Charlotte...Knicks trail by as many as 21 (47-26) in second quarter and 17 (75-58) early in the fourth, then outscore Bobcats 24-7 over the final 9:57 to force OT...Lee (17 points 18 rebounds) leads NY...Raymond Felton leads Bobcats with 22 points and forces second OT with driving layup with :13.4 left in first OT (88-88)...Bobcats shoot season opposition low .380 (35-92).

Oct. 31 vs. Philadelphia (L, 127-141, OT): Al Harrington's career-high 42 points (Knicks season high) and Gallinari's eight three-pointers (30 points) go for naught as frantic second-half comeback falls short for second straight night in 141-127 loss to Sixers in home opener...Harrington's 42 points (in 36 bench minutes) set Knicks club record for bench points (since 1964-65); Gallinari's eight three-pointers fall one shy of club mark...Trailing by as many as 23 (74-51), Knicks force OT by outscoring Sixers 41-26 in fourth; but Sixers rip off 17 straight points in final 3:30 of OT...Andre Iguodala (32 points) leads Sixers, who shoot .607 (51-84) and score season opponent high 141 points...Knicks go 14-41 (.341) from Downtown with then-club record 41 three-point attempts (broken on Dec. 17)...Nate Robinson suffers sprained right ankle, sidelining him for next six games...Knicks fall to 33-31 in home openers (sixth loss in last eight home openers).

Nov. 2 vs. New Orleans (W, 117-111): Lee's 28 points, Larry Hughes' 20 and Harrington's 24 give Knicks first win of year, 117-111 over Hornets at MSG, as Mike D'Antoni records his 300th career NBA win...Chris Paul (32 points, 13 assists) leads Hornets...Knicks trail by four (81-77) entering fourth quarter, then outscore Hornets 40-30 in final stanza.

Nov. 4 vs. Indiana (L, 89-101): Knicks are outscored 28-15 in fourth quarter of 101-89 loss to Pacers at MSG...Knicks shoot just .395 (34-86) overall and go 2-17 from the floor in the fourth quarter, missing their last 12 shots...Harrington (22 points) and Lee (20 points, 19 rebounds) lead Knicks...Danny Granger (21 points) leads Pacers, who place three players in double-figure rebounds (Roy Hibbert 14, Dahntay Jones 12, Brandon Rush 10).

Nov. 6 vs. Cleveland (L, 91-100): LeBron James scores 33 points (19 in first quarter) in his only NY visit of the season as Cavs lead by as many as 26 in defeating Knicks, 100-91 at sold-out MSG before national TV audience...Lee (21 points) leads Knicks, who are outrebounded 46-31...Cavs shoot .535 (38-71) overall, outscore Knicks 40-21 in first quarter...ESPN telecast marks Knicks' first national telecast from MSG since Mar. 19, 2006 vs. Miami...Star-studded crowd includes Alex Rodriguez, CC Sabathia, Mark Teixeira, Joba Chamberlain, Melky Cabrera, Reggie Jackson and Robinson Cano of newly-crowned World Champion Yankees.

Nov. 7 at Milwaukee (L, 87-102): Andrew Bogut scores 22 points while Jodie Meeks adds 19 (5-7 from Downtown) off the bench as Bucks lead by as many as 36 in beating Knicks 102-87 at Milwaukee...Lee leads Knicks with 18 points while Toney Douglas adds 16 (4-5 from Downtown)...Bucks play without Michael Redd (knee).

Nov. 9 vs. Utah (L, 93-95): Another comeback from 20-plus down falls short in 95-93 loss to Utah at MSG, as Jazz snap five-game losing streak at NY with first MSG win since Feb. 20, 2004 (92-78)...Douglas scores team-high 21...Carlos Boozer and Andrei Kirilenko each scored 23 for Jazz, with Deron Williams adding 16 assists...NY bench outscores Utah's, 37-14...Jazz lead by as many as 21 (52-31) early in third quarter, but Knicks outscore Jazz 62-41 over next 21 minutes and forge 93-93 tie on Douglas' layup with 1:36 left...Mehmet Okur's follow-up layup with 1:16 left (after Williams' miss) gives Jazz final margin of victory, as Douglas misses a short, forced jumper in final seconds.

Nov. 11 vs. Atlanta (L, 101-114): Knicks build as much as a 14-point first half lead (51-37), but are outscored 67-47 in second half of 114-101 loss to Hawks in first pro start...Douglas scores 23 points in first pro start...Hawks' Al Horford scores 21 of his game-high 25 points in second half...Knicks shoot .535 (23-43) in first half, .405 (17-42) in second.

Nov. 13 vs. Golden State (L, 107-121): Warriors place four players in 20-plus scoring (Stephen Jackson 23, Kelenna Azubuike, Monta Ellis and Corey Maggette 22 each) and shoot .583 (49-84) en route to handing Knicks 121-107 loss at MSG as overall mark drops to 1-9...Gallinari (19 points, 10 rebounds) records first career double-double...Robinson (9 points, 23 minutes) returns after missing six games (ankle)...Knicks use all 12 eligible players for first time since Apr. 2, 2008 at Memphis.

Nov. 18 at Indiana (W, 110-103): Off-the-bench standouts Harrington (26 points) and Hughes (22 points, 10 rebounds, 7 assists) key comeback from 19 down as Knicks emphatically snap six-game losing streak with 110-103 win at Indiana...Pacers' Danny Granger scores game-high 33 points (30 on 11-14 shooting in first half)...Trailing by 19 (84-65) late in third quarter and by 13 (93-80) midway through the fourth, Knicks outscore Pacers 30-10 in game's final 7:30 (56-34 overall in second half)...Pacers shoot .591 (26-44) in first half, but just .242 (8-33) in second... After battling knee-leg injuries, Eddy Curry (10 points, 4 rebounds, 12 minutes) plays in first game since Mar. 30, 2009 at Utah.

Nov. 21 at New Jersey (W, 98-91): Harrington and Gallinari each score 17 points in 98-91 matinee win at New Jersey...Chris Douglas-Roberts leads NJ with 24 points as Nets fall to 0-13 (in eventual NBA record 0-18 start)...Knicks hold Nets to .411 shooting (37-90)...NY leads by as many as 15 (72-57); Nets rally to pull within one (74-73 on Douglas-Roberts' layup with 10:42 left), but Knicks close out game on 24-18 run in final 10:00.

Nov. 22 vs. Boston (L, 105-107, OT): Kevin Garnett's 19-foot jumper at the overtime buzzer hands Knicks heartbreaking 107-105 OT loss to Celtics at sold-out MSG...Harrington (30 bench points) and Lee (22 points, 15 rebounds) lead Knicks...Boston's Paul Pierce scores game-high 33 points while Rajon Rondo comes within one rebound of a triple-double (14 points, 10 assists, 9 rebounds)...After trailing by as many as 14 (69-55, third quarter), Knicks rally and take a seven-point fourth-quarter lead (86-79 on Robinson's three-pointer with 9:36 left)...Celts regain lead, then Harrington forces OT with two free throws made with :04.7 left...Pierce scores Boston's first seven points in OT, then KG's jumper delivers knockout blow after Lee's dunk with :09.3 left tied it at 105-105.

Nov. 24 at Lakers (L, 90-100): Kobe Bryant scores 34 points as Knicks fall to Lakers at LA, 100-90 in opener of three-game Western swing... Knicks shoot just .389 (35-90) in losing fifth straight to Lakers, and are outrebounded by staggering 60-36...Lakers take command by outscoring NY 28-17 in third quarter (Kobe 13), including a 17-0 run.

Nov. 25 at Sacramento (L, 97-111): Lee (25) is the only starter to score in double figures as Knicks shoot just .385 (35-91) in wire-to-wire, 111-97 loss at Sacramento...Robinson adds 25 off the bench...Kings' Donte Greene goes 6-7 from Downtown (24 points) with six blocks, while Tyreke Evans comes within three assists of a triple-double (19 points, 11 rebounds, 7 assists)...First time Knicks have just one 10-plus starter since Jan. 10, 2009 at Houston (Lee 14).

Nov. 29 vs. Orlando (L, 102-114): Robinson scores 22 of his team-high 24 points in fourth quarter (two shy of club mark), but can't stave off 114-102 loss to Magic at MSG...Magic's Rashard Lewis goes 5-9 from Downtown (game-high 26 points), while Dwight Howard adds 24 points and 16 rebounds...Submitted for your approval: Both teams go 42-83 FGA (.506).

"I don't like losing games. If we keep doing the right things, we can turn this around. But there's nobody in the franchise that's happy we've won one game; so, yeah, I don't like that. But on the other hand, there's a bigger job: Young guys have got to get better, we have to see what we have with the players we have out there right now so we know what we're going to do in the future. And that, to me, is the goal." – President, Basketball Operations Donnie Walsh, Nov. 12

<center>December (9-6; 12-20)</center>

Dec. 1 vs. Phoenix (W, 126-99): Gallinari scores game-high 27 points (6-12 from Downtown) while Lee adds 24 in rousing 126-99 win over 14-4 Phoenix at MSG, snapping five-game losing streak...Harrington scores 22 off the bench as Knicks lead by as many as 31 (112-81)... Hughes records 10,000th career point, adds 12 assists...Knicks go 14-31 (.452) from Downtown while Suns go just 4-17 (.235)...They Said It: "It showed that we're able to put together two halves of playing the way we're capable of playing. And it kind of gives us a benchmark that we need to stick to now of how we want to play defensively and how we want to run our offense." – David Lee

Dec. 2 at Orlando (L, 104-118): Rashard Lewis (20 points) and Mickael Pietrus (17) combine to go 10-15 from Downtown as Magic hand Knicks 118-104 loss at Orlando...Chandler leads NY with 24 points...Magic nail eight three-pointers in third quarter and shoot .551 overall (43-78)...Knicks wear home whites on the road while Magic wear black road "Hardwood Classics" from their inaugural year of 1989-90.

Dec. 4 at Atlanta (W, 114-107): Knicks recover from Hawks' game-opening 11-0 run for 114-107 win at Atlanta, shooting a season-high .577 (45-78)...Harrington scores 27 points (25 in first half)...Lee adds 18 points and 17 rebounds while Duhon scores 25 with 10 assists...Joe Johnson (29 points) leads Hawks, who see Josh Smith ejected in second quarter by referee Bob Delaney... Knicks play without Gallinari (arm).

"I get a feeling we're really close to winning a lot of basketball games. And the ones we lose, we can point to certain things — either we make some foul shots, we make some shots and we can win it. But we're not pointing to, 'We can't guard that guy, we can't do this, we're not this, we're not that.' I think we are everything we need to be. We just need to get some more production out of people and just plugging away."

"I think we can play with anybody, at any time...I'm looking forward to seeing how we can compete and where we are. Every day is a test to see how we can stack up. It's fun to coach this group because they're getting better and more cohesive...There was nobody who felt worse at 1-9 than me. I knew we had something there. I just couldn't figure it out or get it done. Now we're doing better. I take a lot of responsibility for it." – Mike D'Antoni, Dec. 24 and Dec. 27

Feb. 20 vs. Oklahoma City (L, 118-121, OT): Tracy McGrady (26 points) and Eddie House (24 points, 4-8 from Downtown) make their Garden debuts before raucous sellout crowd, but Knicks falter down stretch and lose in OT to Thunder, 121-118 to run losing streak to season-high-tying six...Kevin Durant (36 points, 7 in OT) and Russell Westbrook (31 points, 10 assists) lead Thunder...Knicks lead by six (103-97) with just over a minute left, but Durant's three-point bomb with :06.0 left forces OT at 105-105 (Gallinari misses a three-pointer at the buzzer)...Knicks lead by four (116-112) with under 2:00 left in OT, but are outscored 9-2 in the final 1:23 as Durant's jumper puts OKC ahead to stay (119-118) :16.6 left)...Knicks go 18-23 from the line (.783), Thunder go 30-41 (.732).

Feb. 22 vs. Milwaukee (L, 67-83): Knicks shoot just .338 (26-77) in 83-67 loss to Bucks before MSG sellout that celebrates 40th anniversary reunion of the 1969-70 World Champion Knicks on the Second Annual Knicks Legends Night...McGrady leads Knicks with 15 points (5-14) in second game with NY, while Sergio Rodriguez ties Garden IV mark with eight steals (one shy of overall Knicks record)...Andrew Bogut notches game-high points (24 on 12-15) and rebounds (20)...Knicks' 67 points are season low and their lowest total ever vs. Bucks.

Feb. 23 at Boston (L, 106-110): Despite shooting .525 (42-80), Knicks are denied late and lose at Boston, 110-106, running losing streak to eight (sixth straight loss at Boston)...Lee has game-high points (28) and rebounds (15)...Ray Allen leads Celts with 24 points, Rajon Rondo notches 16 assists, and Nate Robinson scores four points (2-7) in 16 bench minutes in Celtics debut following Feb. 18 trade...Trailing by as many as 14, Knicks pull to within one (107-106) on McGrady's layup with 2:45 left...But Knicks miss their final five shots, including T-Mac's potential game-tying three-ball with :27.9 left...Celtics shoot .557 (44-79) despite playing without Paul Pierce (thumb).

Feb. 26 at Washington (W, 118-116, OT): Lee's layup with :01.6 left in overtime caps a 25-point, 16-rebound night and lifts Knicks to 118-116 win at Washington to snap season-high eight-game losing streak...Harrington scores 37 points in 34 bench minutes, including 17 in the fourth quarter as Knicks rally from 12-point first-half deficit...Andray Blatche leads Wizards with 26 points and 18 rebounds...Randy Foye's jumper with :25.9 left sends the game into OT (112-112), then Lee's layup in the final seconds answers Nick Young's game-tying three-pointer with :06.4 left in the extra session...Teams combine to go just 3-16 from the floor in overtime (NY 2-8, Wash 1-8)...Knicks record their first victory in a game decided in the last 10 seconds since Apr. 18, 2007 at Charlotte (94-93 on Curry tip-in with :00.6 left).

Feb. 27 vs. Memphis (L, 109-120): Marc Gasol comes within two assists of a triple-double (25 points, 13 rebounds, 8 assists) while former Knick Zach Randolph scores 31 with opposition season-high 25 rebounds (10 offensive) as Grizzlies rally to beat Knicks 120-109 at sold-out MSG...Randolph's 25 boards are highest opposition total vs. Knicks since Warriors' Andris Biedrins had 26 vs. NYK on Jan. 27, 2008...Harrington scores 31 points in 41 bench minutes for his second straight 30-plus game off the bench...After Gallinari's three-point bomb ties the score (107-107) with 4:04 left, Grizzlies close out the game with a 13-2 run as Rudy Gay scores12 of his 27 points in the final stanza...Grizz outrebound Knicks, 52-32...Teams combined for just 17 turnovers (NY 9, Grizz 8).

"I know everybody is focused on individual players, but we're not. We're focused on putting together the best team we can. So that takes a lot of different directions, and we have a lot of time to figure out which way we're going to go, but it is a lot of cap space." – Donnie Walsh, Feb. 18

March (6-10; 26-48)

Mar. 1 at Cleveland (L, 93-124): Behind LeBron James' 22 points and Cavs' .567 shooting (51-90), Knicks are blitzed in Cleveland, 124-93...Bill Walker scores 21 points off the bench, but Knicks shoot just .409 (36-88) and trail by as many as 49 (61-110), scoring just 11 points in the third quarter...Cavs play without Shaquille O'Neal, who undergoes right thumb surgery that morning...Knicks play without Chandler (personal).

THE KNICKERBOCKERS STORY

Ned Irish: The Founding Father

The City's Team. The City Game. More than six decades of heroes and heroics. That's the legacy and tradition of the New York Knickerbockers, a charter member of the National Basketball Association and one of the benchmark franchises of American sports.

It is a history that includes six of the 50 Greatest Players in NBA History – Patrick Ewing, Willis Reed, Walt Frazier, Dave De-Busschere, Earl Monroe and Jerry Lucas...a tradition that embraces four of the 10 Greatest Coaches in League history, led by the legendary Red Holzman...a legacy written across eight trips to the NBA Finals and two World Championships, with the fabled 1970 team cited as one of the 10 Greatest Teams in League annals.

The Beginning

It all began on Jun. 6, 1946, when Madison Square Garden was granted a charter franchise in the newly-formed Basketball Association of America. The legendary Ned Irish, who would eventually be enshrined in the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, was the Knicks' founding father and one of the infant circuit's pioneers.

The newly-christened Knickerbockers debuted on Nov. 1, 1946, edging the Toronto Huskies, 68-66 at famed Maple Leaf Gardens. Former Manhattan College mentor Neil Cohalan was the Knicks' first head coach, while Ossie Schectman, Stan Stutz, Jake Weber, Ralph Kaplowitz and Leo Gottlieb made up the inaugural starting lineup.

This Nearly Was Mine

New York was playoff-bound in each of its first 10 seasons, nine of those under the leadership of Joe Lapchick, the coaching genius whose 326 career wins helped him carve a niche in the Hall of Fame.

The Knicks made three consecutive trips to the NBA Finals, in 1951, 1952 and 1953. But they would be denied the summit all three times: first by Rochester, and then by the dynastic Minneapolis Lakers in 1952 and 1953.

Carl Braun was the club's premier scorer during those early days, averaging 14.1 points over a career that spanned 12 seasons and five All-Star selections. Braun's teammates included Harry Gallatin, the ferocious rebounder who still holds the club by leading the club in assists for seven straight seasons (1950-56), popular Ernie Vandeweghe and pioneer pro Nat "Sweetwater" Clifton. The greatness of the early Knicks has been certified with the enshrinements of Gallatin and McGuire into the Hall of Fame, joining Lapchick and Irish.

Lean Years

New York made the playoffs only once in a 10-year span from the late '50s into the '60s, a period in which Iona's Richie Guerin earned a permanent place in Knicks lore with his sensational scoring and hard-nosed play. A six-time All-Star with New York, Guerin was the first Knick to score 50 points in a game when he poured in 57 on Dec. 11, 1959 against Syracuse, just one of 13 40-point performances during his career. Willie Naulls, Ray Felix, Jumpin' Johnny Green and Ken Sears were also major Knick heroes in those days.

The head coaching assignments during that era were handled by Vince Boryla, Fuzzy Levane, Braun, Eddie Donovan, Gallatin and McGuire.

TAKE IT ALL!

Following a decade in the doldrums, the Knicks franchise would ultimately reach its zenith under William "Red" Holzman, the Hall of Fame coach who took over the reins in late 1967, just prior to the team's move from the venerable Old Garden on 49th Street to the gleaming New Garden above Penn Station. As Holzman assumed the helm, the team's "Golden Era" - which would include four 50+-win seasons, three Eastern Conference Championships and, of course, two NBA titles - was launched.

The Knicks climbed to basketball's pinnacle in 1969-70, riding a club record 18-game winning streak and a 60-22 regular season mark to the team's first NBA World Championship. Captain Willis Reed, the League's MVP, will forever be remembered for stepping onto the Garden court in spite of his severely injured leg, to the deafening roar of a capacity crowd... the impetus for a stirring and decisive seventh game triumph in the Finals against the Los Angeles Lakers. With Reed scoring the Knicks' first two baskets and Walt Frazier adding 36 points and 19 assists, New York nailed down its first NBA title with a 113-99 Game Seven win, forever stamping May 8, 1970 as the ultimate red-letter day in team history.

Along with Reed's contributions, the unprecedented success was keyed by fabled teammates such as Frazier, Bill Bradley, Dave DeBusschere and Dick Barnett, along with "Minutemen" Mike Riordan, Cazzie Russell and Dave Stallworth. Smart drafting and shrewd trades by Holzman and general manager Eddie Donovan - especially the fabled December 1968 acquisition of DeBusschere from Detroit - laid the foundation for success.
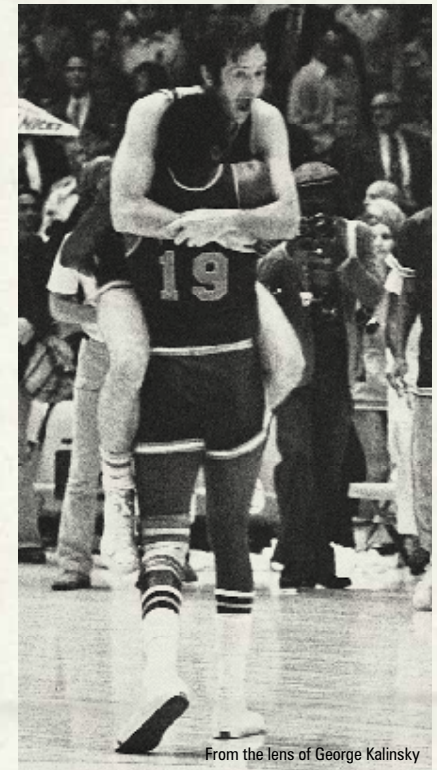

Bradley and Reed exalt in '73 title

Holzman's club led the NBA in team defense five times over a six-year span from 1968-69 to 1973-74. The team captured the citizenry of the world's greatest basketball city, selling out the New Garden 26 times in 1969-70 after recording just six regular season sellouts in 22 seasons at the Old Garden.

Earl "The Pearl" Monroe, a Knicks nemesis during his days with the Baltimore Bullets, joined the Knicks in 1971-72 and teamed with Frazier to form one of the greatest backcourts in NBA history. Also acquired to shore up the front line was perennial All-Star Jerry Lucas.

In 1971-72, despite the season-long absence of Reed due to injury, the Knicks won the Eastern Conference title with Playoff wins over Baltimore and Boston. In 1972-73, Reed returned and a veteran Knick squad gutted its way to its second NBA Championship. They outlasted Boston in a classic Eastern Final series and then beat the Lakers in the Finals, becoming the first team in NBA history to defeat two 60-win teams en route to a title.

In tribute to the championship heroes, the retired numbers of Reed, Bradley, Frazier, Barnett, DeBusschere and Monroe hang from the Garden rafters. Reed, Bradley, Frazier, DeBusschere, Monroe and Lucas have all joined Holzman in the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

From the lens of George Kalinsky

Slump, then Surge

New York was a playoff force for nine straight seasons (1966-67 through 1974-75). But then a period of lean times befell the club as the '80s dawned, despite headline performances by Spencer Haywood, Ray Williams, Micheal Ray Richardson and future Hall of Famer Bob McAdoo. Holzman and Reed presided as coach as the Knicks made the Playoffs only twice in a seven-year span from 1976 to 1982.

Two dynamic and unforgettable personalities played the central roles as the Knicks' fortunes turned in the early '80s...head coach and future Hall of Famer Hubie Brown, and scorer extraordinaire Bernard King. In 1984, Brown guided the Knicks to a memorable first-round playoff victory over Detroit. King developed into perhaps the greatest offensive force in club history, becoming the first - and so far the only - Knick ever to lead the NBA in scoring with a 32.9 average in 1984-85.

Jackpot!

On Mother's Day 1985, the Knicks won the rights to Georgetown superstar Patrick Ewing in the first-ever NBA Lottery. It would prove to be a major turning point in the club's history. Ewing authored 15 memorable years in New York, becoming an 11-time All-Star, the all-time club leader in virtually every category and arguably the greatest player to ever wear the orange and blue, a headline performer whose No. 33 would be hoisted to the Garden rafters in 2003. But a crippling 1985 knee injury to King set off a three-year dry spell in which the Knicks would win only 24, 23 and 24 games, missing the Playoffs all three years as Garden attendance plummeted.

All-Stars Oakley, Ewing and Starks

But a decade-plus period in which the Knicks would again reign as one of the game's elite began in 1987-88. Under General Manager Al Bianchi and Head Coach Rick Pitino and buoyed by Rookie of the Year Mark Jackson, the Knicks gained a playoff spot in the season's final game. The next year, with newly-acquired Charles Oakley and Kiki Vandeweghe on board, the Knicks won 52 games (including 26 straight at home) and the Atlantic Division title. In 1989-90, behind an MVP-caliber season by Ewing, the Knicks rose from an 0-2 hole and defeated the arch-rival Celtics in the first playoff round with an emotional Game Five triumph at Boston Garden.

It's All About Soul

Club president Dave Checketts - named on Mar. 1, 1991 - and eventual President and General Manager Ernie Grunfeld then guided the Knicks into an unforgettable era by hiring future Hall of Fame coach Pat Riley and adding the likes of Xavier McDaniel, Rolando Blackman, Anthony Mason, Doc Rivers, Charles Smith and Derek Harper. The Riley Era - 1991-92 through 1994-95 - resulted in an unprecedented four consecutive 50+ win seasons, two Atlantic Division titles, two trips to the Eastern Conference Finals, and a series of electrifying Playoff runs that captivated the entire nation.

In 1992-93, the Knicks rewrote the club record book with a franchise-record-tying 60 wins, a club record 37 home victories and, ultimately, their first appearance in the Eastern Conference Finals in nearly two decades.

Then, keyed by one of the greatest defensive units in NBA history (91.5 points allowed) and All-Star seasons from Ewing, Oakley and John Starks, the 1993-94 Knicks ended the three-year championship reign of the Chicago Bulls with an emotional playoff triumph, then bested Indiana to earn their first Eastern Conference Championship in 21 years, only to be denied the ultimate prize in a seven-game nail-biter NBA Finals series against Houston. A 55-win season in 1994-95 and a heartbreaking seven-game Playoff loss to Indiana was followed soon after by Riley's resignation as head coach.

As a final, fitting postscript to the Riley Era, both Ewing and Riley earned first-ballot election to the Basketball Hall of Fame with the Class of 2008.

Jeff's Time

After seven years as an assistant coach, youthful Jeff Van Gundy succeeded Don Nelson as head coach on Mar. 8, 1996. Following the 1995-96 season, Grunfeld engineered an extensive off-season facelift that put Larry Johnson, Allan Houston, Chris Childs and Buck Williams in Knicks uniforms. The results were a 57-win season in 1996-97, followed by an emotional first-round Playoff triumph over Miami in 1997-98, a season marred by a wrist fracture suffered by Ewing that sidelined the All-Star center for the final two-thirds of the regular season.

Electrifying Latrell Sprewell and youthful Marcus Camby came aboard in 1998-99 to help write one of the most memorable chapters in the club's storied history. Following a 27-23 regular season, the Knicks stormed from the East's eighth seed to win the Eastern Conference title with thrilling Playoff triumphs over arch-rivals Miami and Indiana and a decisive four-game sweep of Atlanta, before ultimate heartbreak of a five-game Finals loss to San Antonio.

In 2000, the Knicks made their second straight march to the East Finals, highlighted by their third straight Playoff triumph over Miami, as Ewing concluded his 15-year, Hall of Fame Knick career. Van Gundy, meanwhile, would ultimately log 248 career wins to become the third-winningest coach in franchise history, behind only the storied duo of Holzman and Lapchick.

Into The Millennium

Following the end of both the Knicks' string of 14 consecutive Playoff appearances and their decade-long streak of 433 home sellouts, Hall of Famer Isiah Thomas was appointed president, basketball operations on Dec. 22, 2003. Over the next five seasons, Hall of Famers Lenny Wilkens, Larry Brown and ultimately Thomas would coach the Knicks, with Wilkens leading New York to its most recent Playoff berth in 2004. Thomas engineered the acquisitions of Stephon Marbury, Eddy Curry, Jamal Crawford, David Lee, Quentin Richardson, Wilson Chandler, Zach Randolph and Nate Robinson.

Donnie and Mike

A new Knicks era dawned in the spring of 2008, with the naming of New York native Donnie Walsh as president, basketball operations on April 2, and the hiring of Mike D'Antoni as head coach on May 13. Walsh returned to his hometown after two decades in Indiana over which he molded the Pacers into one of the NBA's elite franchises. D'Antoni arrived after leading the Phoenix Suns to four 50+ win seasons and three Pacific Division titles.

In 2008-09, his first year at the helm, D'Antoni engineered a nine-game improvement in the win column for New York, instilling a trademark high-octane attack that enabled the Knicks to finish as the League's fourth-best offensive team. In 2009-10, Lee became the Knicks' first NBA All-Star since 2001, Robinson capped a span in which he won three NBA Slam Dunk Championships, and Italian import Danilo Gallinari emerged as one of the game's deadliest three-point threats.

Meanwhile, Walsh presided over an extensive roster makeover that not only brought the likes of Al Harrington and Tracy McGrady to the Knicks, but also enabled the team to have salary cap flexibility for the first time in more than a decade. Over the summer of 2010, Walsh changed the face of the Knicks by acquiring five-time NBA All-Star Amar'e Stoudemire as well as some of the League's finest young talent in the likes of Raymond Felton, Anthony Randolph, Kelenna Azubuike and Ronny Turiaf.

Under the leadership of Walsh and D'Antoni and with renewed spirit and youth, New York's Team faces the 2010s with the promise of even greater heights.

The Name…

The term "Knickerbockers" traces its origin to the Dutch settlers who came to the New World - and especially to what is now New York - in the 1600s. Specifically, it refers to the style of pants the settlers wore...pants that rolled up just below the knee, which became known as "Knickerbockers", or "knickers".

In 1809, legendary author Washington Irving solidified the knickerbocker name in New York lore when he wrote the satiric A History of New York from the Beginning of the World to the End of the Dutch Dynasty under the pseudonym Diedrich Knickerbocker. Later known as Knickerbocker's History of New York, Irving's book introduced the word "knickerbocker" to signify a New Yorker who could trace his or her ancestry to the original Dutch settlers.

With the publication of Irving's book, the Dutch settler "Knickerbocker" character became synonymous with New York City. The city's most popular symbol of the late 19th and early 20th centuries was "Father Knickerbocker", complete with cotton wig, three-cornered hat, buckled shoes, and, of course, knickered pants.

At the same time, the term "Knickerbocker" became indelibly linked to anything and everything New York...from Jacob Ruppert's Knickerbocker Beer to the 1938 Broadway musical Knickerbocker Holiday (which starred Walter Huston and featured the haunting "September Song") to famed society gossip columnists Cholly Knickerbocker (the nom de plume used by Maury Paul and Igor Cassini) and Suzy Knickerbocker (Aileen Mehle).

The Knickerbocker name had its first use in the sports world in 1845, when Alexander Cartwright's Manhattan-based baseball team - the first organized team in baseball history - was named the "New York Knickerbockers" or the "Knickerbocker Nine." The Knickerbocker name stayed with the team even after it moved its base of operations to Elysian Fields at Hoboken, NJ in 1846. (The baseball link may have prompted Casey Stengel to joyously exclaim, "It's great to be back as the manager of the Knickerbockers!" when he was named pilot of the newborn Mets in 1961).

Thus, the Knickerbocker name had been an integral part of the New York scene for more than a century when the Basketball Association of America granted a charter franchise to the city in the summer of 1946. As can best be determined, the final decision to call the team the "Knickerbockers" was made by the club's founder, the legendary Ned Irish.

The late Fred Podesta, the longtime Garden executive who passed away in 1999, once recalled, "The name came out of a hat. We were all sitting in the office one day - Irish, (publicity man) Lester Scott and a few others on the staff. We each put a name in the hat, and when we pulled them out, most of them said Knickerbockers, after Father Knickerbocker, the symbol of New York City. It soon was shortened to Knicks."

In keeping with another New York tradition, the team's colors have always (except for the years from 1979-80 through 1982-83) been orange, blue and white...the official colors of New York City.

So now you know.

The Logo…

Including minor color and style alterations, the Knicks have used only three primary logos in their 65-year history:

Father Knick: The original Knicks logo, used from the inaugural 1946-47 season through 1963-64, was that of a smiling Father Knickerbocker dribbling a basketball, the brainchild of famed sports cartoonist Willard Mullin of the New York World-Telegram.

Old School Classic: For the 1964-65 season, the Knicks unveiled their "classic roundball" logo, created by artist Bud Freeman of the J.C. Bull advertising agency. It was the logo under which the Knicks won both of their NBA Championships, and, with minor color and style alterations, remained in use through 1991-92, a total of 28 seasons.

Alterations to the "classic roundball" logo included maroon lettering (1980-81 through 1982-83), and the "brown ball" (1983-84 through 1988-89) and "orange ball" (1989-90 through 1991-92) versions that were introduced to more closely conform to standard PMS colors.

During the late '60s and early '70s, the Knicks also used a secondary "ball-in-the-box" logo on game tickets and selected club merchandise.

The Triangle: On Jun. 17, 1992, the Knicks unveiled a unique, updated version of the club logo, featuring three-dimensional, modernized lettering newly framed in a triangle. The new logo was designed by NBA Marketing, an effort headed by creative director Tom O'Grady. For the 1995-96 season, the logo was altered slightly to include the words "New York" at the top. The Triangle logo will be in use for its 19th season in 2010-11.

And More: While the Triangle logo remains the Knicks' primary trademark, the club has used three additional secondary logos in recent years: the Golden Anniversary logo in 1996-97, the "Knicks 2000" millennium logo in 1999-2000, and the circular "NYK Subway Token" logo. First introduced in 1995-96, the "NYK" logo was added to the backs of the players' jerseys in 2002-03, and took on additional nostalgic value with the formal retirement of the subway token by the city's Transportation Authority in spring 2003.

HISTORY

HISTORY

A listing of some of the milestone dates in the Knickerbockers' 64-year history as a charter member of the NBA.

Jun. 6, 1946: The Knicks are born at the first organizational meeting of the Basketball Association of America. New York is granted a charter franchise, along with Boston (Celtics), Philadelphia (Warriors), Providence (Steamrollers), Toronto (Huskies), Washington (Capitols), Chicago (Stags), Cleveland (Rebels), Detroit (Falcons), Pittsburgh (Ironmen) and St. Louis (Bombers)...Of the 11 original NBA franchises, only the Knicks, Celtics and Warriors remain, with the Knicks and Celtics the only two charter members still in their original cities.

Jul. 23, 1946: New York's professional basketball team announces that they will be referred to as the Knickerbockers.

Nov. 1, 1946: The First Game in Knicks History. Knicks defeat Toronto, 68-66 at fabled Maple Leaf Gardens. Leo Gottlieb leads the Knicks with 12 points.

Nov. 11, 1946: The Big Apple sees New York's Team for the first time, as the Knicks make their home debut. Before a crowd of 17,205 at the Old Garden on 49th Street, the Knicks lose to Chicago in overtime, 78-68. CCNY's Sonny Hertzberg leads the Knicks with 14 points.

Apr. 12, 1952: In the first game of the NBA Finals against the Lakers at St. Paul, the Knicks are victimized by a legendary non-call by officials Sid Borgia and Stan Stutz. Late in the first period, New York's Al McGuire hits a driving layup, and is fouled. However, McGuire is sent to the line for two free throws...Borgia and Stutz merely called the foul, and neither saw the ball go in the basket! Despite the protestations of coach Joe Lapchick (including a personal appeal to NBA commissioner Maurice Podoloff, seated at courtside), the call stands. McGuire goes to the line and hits one of two free throws. So, instead of a possible three points on the play, the Knicks get just one. Ultimately, it proves most costly as the Lakers win in overtime, 83-79, en route to a seven-game series triumph.

Jan. 21, 1954: The Old Garden hosts the NBA All-Star Game for the first time, and 16,487 see the East triumph in overtime, 98-93 behind Bob Cousy's 20 points. George Mikan's two (underhanded) free throws with no time left in regulation send the game into the extra session. It's the first of three NBA All-Star Games that will be played at the Old Garden.

Mar. 2, 1962: In the greatest single-game scoring performance in NBA history, Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain scores 100 points as the Warriors defeat the Knicks, 169-147 at Hershey, PA. Philadelphia's 169 points still stand as an all-time opposition high vs. Knicks.

Dec. 9, 1967: Before a packed Garden house of 18,499 (one of only six times the Knicks sold out the Old Garden) and a worldwide press contingent, Bill Bradley makes his long-awaited Knicks debut. Entering the game at the start of the second quarter, Dollar Bill nails his first pro shot, a left side baseline jumper. Bradley winds up with eight points in 20 minutes, but it isn't enough as the Knicks lose to Detroit, 124-121.

Dec. 27, 1967: Red Holzman is named head coach, replacing Dick McGuire (the two exchange positions, with McGuire named head scout).

Jan. 23, 1968: Three weeks before closing its doors forever, the Old Garden plays host to its third and last NBA All-Star Game. Before a sellout crowd of 18,422, Philadelphia's Hal Greer scores 21 points (19 in the third quarter) to lead the East to a 144-124 win. Of the 27 players and coaches selected to participate in the 1968 Game, 15 of them would be named among the NBA's 50 Greatest Players at the League's Golden Anniversary celebration in 1996-97. The '68 All-Star Game is the first NBA All-Star Game to be televised live from coast-to-coast on a major network (ABC) in prime time.

Feb. 10 and 14, 1968: Farewell to one home, hello to another. On the 10th, the Knicks play their last game at the Old Garden; then, four days later, play their first game at the New Garden. The Knicks win both, taking the finale on 49th Street, 115-97 over the 76ers, then winning their first game at 33rd and Seventh, 114-102 over San Diego.

Dec. 19, 1968: The Trade...Walt Bellamy and Howard Komives to Detroit for Dave DeBusschere.

Nov. 28, 1969: "What a game! What a game!" shouts TV voice Bob Wolff. Knicks score six points in the final 16 seconds to defeat Cincinnati, 106-105, and run their winning streak to a then-NBA record 18 straight games (the streak will end the next night with a loss to Detroit at MSG). The game against the Bob Cousy-coached Royals is played at the old Cleveland Arena, later the original home of the Cavs and immortal in rock 'n roll history as the site of Alan Freed's legendary 1952 Moondog Coronation Ball.

May 8, 1970: CHAMPS! Knicks 113, Lakers 99 in Game Seven of the Finals at MSG. Willis Reed's (4 pts, 27 min) last-minute entrance ignites the Garden, then Knicks get 36 points and 19 assists from Walt Frazier to nail down their first NBA title.

Nov. 18, 1972: Trailing Milwaukee 86-68 late in the fourth quarter, Knicks run off 19 straight points in the game's final 5:11 to defeat the Bucks, 87-86 at MSG, in perhaps the most famous regular season game in club history.

Apr. 22, 1973: Roaring back from a 17-point second-half deficit, Knicks outlast Boston 117-110 in a double-overtime thriller in Game Four of the East Finals at the Garden. Walt Frazier leads the way with 37 points as Knicks take a 3-1 series lead over Boston.

Apr. 29, 1973: After squandering a 3-1 series lead with losses in Games Five and Six, Knicks nail down the Eastern Conference title with a do-or-die 94-78 Game Seven triumph at Boston, becoming the first team ever to defeat the Celtics in Game Seven of a Playoff series.

May 10, 1973: CHAMPS AGAIN! Knicks 102, Lakers 93 in Game Five of the Finals at the LA Forum. Earl Monroe scores a game-high 23 points while Willis Reed (16.4 points, 9.2 rebounds) is named Finals MVP for the second time in four years.

Jan. 31-Feb. 1, 1984: Back-to-back 50-point games for Bernard King (at San Antonio and Dallas).

Dec. 25, 1984: Bernard King authors the greatest single-game scoring performance in franchise history, pouring in 60 points in a 120-114 Christmas Day loss to New Jersey at the Garden.

Mar. 23, 1985: On his way to becoming the first and only Knick to lead the League in scoring (32.9), Bernard King suffers a torn right anterior cruciate ligament in a game at Kansas City, an injury that will haunt the Knicks for years to come.

May 12, 1985: Knicks win the first-ever NBA Lottery, enabling them to select Georgetown center Patrick Ewing in the upcoming NBA Draft.

Jan. 15, 1990: Trent Tucker's three-point bomb off a Mark Jackson inbound (coming with the bare minimum of 0:00.1 showing on the clock) gives the Knicks a 109-106 Martin Luther King Day win over Chicago at the Garden and leads the following year to the institution of the 0.3-second "Trent Tucker Rule".

May 6, 1990: Knicks complete one of the most stunning turnarounds in Playoff history with a 121-114 Game Five victory at Boston, enabling them to snap an overall 26-game losing streak at Boston Garden and become just the third team in League history to rally from an 0-2 deficit to win a best-of-five series.

Dec. 18, 1992: Two years after their fabled 1990 Playoff win, Knicks end another losing streak at Boston Garden with 113-87 rout of Celtics, snapping a 23-game regular season losing streak on the fabled parquet floor (first regular season win at Boston since Feb. 29, 1984).

May 25, 1993: In the final minute of Game Two of the East Finals against Chicago, John Starks authors perhaps the single most famous play in Knicks history, splitting the Bulls defense for "The Dunk", a driving, left-handed tomahawk slam that sends the Garden into a frenzy. Coming with :47.3 left, The Dunk gives the Knicks a five-point lead in their eventual 96-91 win. (Knicks led series 2-0 after this game, but would fall to the Bulls in six).

Dec. 16, 1993: Patrick Ewing becomes the Knicks' all-time leading scorer with his 14,618th career point, passing Walt Frazier (14,617)...Ewing's record-breaker is a 12-foot baseline jumper (Oakley assist) with 9:39 left in the third quarter of a 108-85 win over the Lakers at MSG.

May 22, 1994: Knicks end the three-year championship reign of the Chicago Bulls with an 87-77 win in Game Seven of the East Semis at MSG.

Jun. 5, 1994: Knicks earn their first trip to the NBA Finals in 21 years, defeating Indiana 94-90 in Game Seven of the East Finals at MSG. Ewing (24 points, 22 rebounds) authors the game's key play, a follow-up, two-handed slam of Starks' missed layup, to give NY the lead for good with :26.9 left.

Jun. 22, 1994: Knicks title dreams fall one game short of reality as they lose Game Seven of the NBA Finals, 90-84 at Houston. It's their 25th Playoff game of the season, an all-time NBA record that would not be broken until 2008 (Boston).

Mar. 28, 1995: The Double Nickel Game...Two weeks after returning to basketball, Chicago's Michael Jordan scores 55 points (21-37 FGA, 3-4 from Downtown, 10-11 FTA) to lead the Bulls to a 113-111 win over the Knicks at MSG.

Jun. 15, 1995: Pat Riley resigns as head coach, after leading the Knicks to four 50+ win seasons, two Atlantic Division titles, two trips to the Conference Finals, and the 1994 Eastern Conference Championship.

Oct. 29, 1996: The NBA unveils its 50th Anniversary team to include Dave DeBusschere, Patrick Ewing, Walt Frazier, Jerry Lucas, Earl Monroe and Willis Reed.

Nov. 1, 1996: Fifty years to the day after playing their first game, the Knicks return to Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens to open their 50th Anniversary season, defeating the Raptors 107-99.

Dec. 30, 1996: The team records its 2,000th regular season victory, defeating the New Jersey Nets, 98-86, at Madison Square Garden.

Dec. 20, 1997: Ewing suffers the most devastating injury of his career, a Lunate dislocation and torn ligaments of the right wrist, in the final seconds of the first half of a 98-78 loss at Milwaukee. The injury will sideline the perennial All-Star until the second round of the Playoffs.

Nov. 13, 1998: Leukemia claims the life of Hall of Fame Coach Red Holzman at age 78.

May 16, 1999: The Shot (first version)...Allan Houston's running one-hander hits off both the rim and the backboard, then drops through with :00.8 left, giving the Knicks a thrilling 78-77 win in the deciding Game Five of the first Playoff round at Miami. Knicks become just the second eighth-seeded team in Playoff history to defeat a first-seed, and knock the arch-rival Heat out of the Playoffs for the second of three straight years.

Jun. 5, 1999: The Shot (second version)...Larry Johnson's first career four-point play (3PT FGM, fouled by Antonio Davis, FTM), with :05.7 left, echoes throughout the basketball world and gives the Knicks a 92-91 win over Indiana in Game Three of the East Finals at MSG.

Jun. 11, 1999: Knicks become the first eighth-seeded team in NBA history to win a conference title, defeating Indiana 90-82 in Game Six of the East Finals at MSG, to earn their second Eastern Conference Championship in the decade of the '90s.

Jun. 25, 1999: One of the most memorable Playoff runs in club history ends as Knicks drop Game Five of the Finals, 78-77 to San Antonio at MSG, as Latrell Sprewell's last-second miss gives Spurs their first NBA title. It's the latest game calendarwise in NBA history.

Sep. 20, 2000: An unforgettable era comes to an end as future Hall of Famer Patrick Ewing - the all-time franchise leader in virtually every category and arguably the greatest Knick of all time - is traded to the Seattle SuperSonics in a four-team, 12-player trade, at the time the largest single trade in NBA history.

Oct. 17, 2005: Allan Houston announces his retirement as an NBA player and finishes his career as the franchise's fourth leading scorer with 11,165 points.

Apr. 2, 2008: Donnie Walsh takes over the franchise as president, basketball operations after 23 seasons with the Indiana Pacers.

May 13, 2008: Mike D'Antoni is named the club's 24th head coach after leading the Phoenix Suns to four straight playoff appearances.

Sep. 5, 2008: In their first years of eligibility Patrick Ewing and Pat Riley are enshrined into the Naismith Memorial Hall of Fame in Springfield, MA.

Nov. 29, 2008: Chris Duhon dishes off a franchise record 22 assists against the Warriors at MSG, shattering Richie Guerin's 50-year old single-game club mark of 21 set on Dec. 12, 1958 against St. Louis.

Jul. 9, 2010: Extensive off-season makeover keyed with the acquisition of five-time NBA All-Star Amar'e Stoudemire via sign-and-trade with Phoenix.

YOUNGEST/OLDEST PLAYERS

The Knicks entered the 2010-11 season with an average age of 24.6. The youngest Opening Night roster in franchise history was in 1979-80 with an average age of 24.2. Over the last six seasons, two players (Trevor Ariza, Jackie Butler) surpassed Carl Braun as the youngest man to have ever worn the blue and orange. Braun signed a baseball contract after his sophomore year at Colgate and forfeited his amateur status across the board in all sports. The Knicks signed him in the summer of '47, two years before his class graduated and he made his pro basketball debut on Nov. 13, 1947 against Washington.

The oldest player to appear in a game for the Knicks was current assistant coach Herb Williams, who was 41 years, four months and nine days when he made his final appearance in Game 5 of the 1999 NBA Finals against San Antonio on Jun. 25, 1999 to register one minute played. His last regular season appearance was on May 2, 1999 at Indiana at 41 years, two months and 16 days old.

Welcome to the 2010-11 Knickerbockers season, New York's 65th campaign as a charter member of the NBA. Here are a few guidelines which we hope will assist you in your coverage this season:

Credentials: Three media credentials are honored for admission to the Garden: 1) Knicks 2010-11 season working media passes; 2) Knicks daily passes (good for that specific game only), and 3) 2010-11 NBA working media passes. Knicks and/or NBA season working media passes must include the headshot of the bearer. Holders of daily passes may be asked to submit a valid government-issued photo ID. NO OTHER CREDENTIALS WILL BE HONORED.

Application for season or game credentials may be made by faxing the Knicks' PR office at (212) 465-6498, emailing knicks.credentials@ thegarden.com or calling (212) 465-6471. Requests for single game credentials must be made by phone, fax or e-mail to the Knicks' office at least 24 hours prior to game time. Day-of-game requests will not be honored. Radio stations, magazines and weekly newspapers will be accommodated on a game-by-game, space-available basis. When applying for the first time, requests from magazines and weekly newspapers, radio and TV stations must be made on company letterhead and must include copies of the publication (if applicable). Applying for credentials does not guarantee confirmation. When in the Garden, media members must wear their credentials in clear sight at all times. All credentials are non-transferable. Please adhere to the above to avoid embarrassing situations for both yourself and for us.

Coaches Post-Game: Knicks Head Coach Mike D'Antoni will conduct his post-game media sessions in the "Multi-Purpose Room," located down the hall from the visitors lockerroom. A multi-box/amplification system will be set up. During post-game coaches media sessions, priority must be given to those media on deadline (print and live broadcast), and interviews should be limited to game comments during the deadline crunch.

Game-Day Interviews: Participating radio and TV stations/networks are strongly urged to conduct their game-day interviews at the morning shootaround, rather than at the arena prior to the game.

Locker Rooms: Both the Knicks and visitors' locker rooms are located at court level on the 33rd Street (player benches) side of the Garden. Entering the locker room area from courtside, the Knicks' locker room is to your right and the visitors' to your left. As per NBA regulations, the Knicks' locker room will be open for a 45-minute period, ending 45 minutes prior to game time (for example, the room will be open from 6:00 p.m. to 6:45 p.m. for a 7:30 start). The room will reopen within 15 minutes after the final buzzer. During post-game media sessions, priority must be given to those media on deadline (print and live broadcast), and interviews should be limited to game comments during the deadline crunch. Your cooperation is asked in maintaining a work atmosphere in the locker rooms at all times. Any media members using their credentials for the purpose of obtaining autographs or taking photographs for personal use will have their credentials immediately revoked.

Notes: Game notes are available in the press room beginning two hours prior to game time. (For visiting media, game notes, credentials, programs and recent news clips will be delivered to their hotel the night before, or the morning of, the game). Game notes, running sheets, quarter-by-quarter sheets and box scores are all available from the Knicks' gamenight staff, as well as in the press workroom during and after the game. Post-game quotes, notes, practice information and boxscores of other NBA games will be available in the press workroom as soon as possible after the game.

Parking: There is no media parking area at Madison Square Garden. However, there are numerous pay indoor and outdoor parking areas in the immediate vicinity.

Phones: Numerous credit-card telephones are available at courtside and in the press room for visiting media. Media wishing to order a phone line for their exclusive use should call Bill Bolan of Garden Telecommunications at (212) 465-6009, and must also inform Knicks PR so that a specific location can be assigned. Due to the quick changeover for other Garden events, all post-game stories should be filed from the press workroom and not from courtside.

Photographers: Positions for credentialed photographers are numbered and located on the baselines at the 7th Avenue and 8th Avenue ends of the Garden. There are no photo positions along the sidelines. Free-lance photographers will not be credentialed unless they are on specific assignment from a magazine or daily newspaper. No "roving" passes are issued.

Please Note The Following Photo Regulations:
• Please consult the posted photo charts for your assigned positions.
• Please do not move from your assigned photo positions during game action. Movement is permitted only during timeouts and quarter breaks.
• Please shoot only from your assigned positions unless cleared to move by a Knicks PR representative.
• Please do not move into any photo position marked "Reserved".
• Messengers are not permitted to sit at courtside.
• Please store all coats, jackets and extra equipment in the press room.
• Please keep your courtside equipment to a bare minimum (one small Domke bag).
• All still and TV photographers must observe the NBA's mandatory "Three-Foot Lane" rule.

Baseline photo positions are extremely limited. Due to frequent national TV coverage of Knicks home games, additional space must be reserved for hand-held TV cameras and will greatly reduce the available space for still photographers.

In addition to the "Three-Foot Lane" rule, please be aware of other NBA-enforced regulations: All still and TV cameras must have rubber-capped lenses. Cameras mounted on the basket stanchion must be set back at least four inches from the edge of the padding. Cameras mounted behind the backboard cannot be visible inside the target box from any angle. Tripods and remote cameras placed on the court surface are not permitted. Use of flash is not permitted.

Practices: Knicks practice sessions are held at Madison Square Garden Training Center in Greenburgh, NY, located in Westchester County approximately 25 miles north of New York City.

On off-day practices, players will be available on the court for 15-30 minutes after practice. Player availability will be preceded by a media session with Coach D'Antoni. At game-day shootarounds, players will be available either before or after the session.

Knicks practices are always subject to last-minute change and/or cancellation. Media covering practice should always call the Knicks' PR office to confirm times before trekking to Greenburgh.

The Road to Greenburgh: Here are the suggested routes to MSG Training Center:

Northbound, from Manhattan West Side: Henry Hudson Parkway to Saw Mill River Parkway North to exit marked "Saw Mill River Road-Eastview." Bear right on Saw Mill River Road for approximately ¼ mile.

Northbound, from Manhattan East Side: FDR Drive North over Willis Ave. Bridge to Major Deegan Expressway North to NY State Thruway North to Saw Mill River Parkway North to exit marked "Saw Mill River Road-Eastview". Bear right on Saw Mill River Road for approximately ¼ mile.

Northbound, from Long Island: Whitestone Bridge into the Bronx, then bear left off the bridge to the Hutchinson River Parkway North. Take northbound Hutchinson River Parkway to I-287 West (Cross Westchester Expressway) to Saw Mill River Parkway North. Take northbound Saw Mill River Parkway to exit marked "Saw Mill River Road-Eastview." Bear right on Saw Mill River Road for approximately ¼ mile.

Southbound from upstate NY: I-684 or Taconic State Parkway South to Saw Mill River Parkway South to exit marked "Saw Mill River Road-Eastview." Bear left on Saw Mill River Road for approximately ¼ mile.

Eastbound from New Jersey: New York State Thruway across Tappan Zee Bridge to Route 287 East (Cross Westchester Expressway) to Exit 1, "Saw Mill River Parkway-North." Stay on Saw Mill River Parkway for approximately two miles to exit marked "Saw Mill River Road-Eastview." Bear right on Saw Mill River Road for approximately ¼ mile.

Westbound from Connecticut: From Route 287 West, take Exit 3 onto Sprain Brook Parkway North to exit marked "100C-100 Eastview." Go left on Route 100C for approximately one mile. Bear right on Saw Mill River Road and follow for approximately ¼ mile.

Press Entrance: Madison Square Garden's press entrance (8 Penn Plaza) is located on the southeast corner of 33rd Street and 8th Avenue. Day-of-game credentials may be picked up there starting two hours prior to game time.

Use the press elevator to enter the Garden arena. The locker rooms and court are located on level five, the press room on level six.

Press Room: Named in memory of the legendary public address voice of the Garden, the John Condon Press Room is located on the first promenade level of the Garden at 33rd Street and 8th Avenue (behind the Knicks' bench, one level up). From the press entrance, take the elevator directly to level six. From courtside, the press room may be reached by walking through Gate 64 and turning right, or through Gate 65 and turning left.

The dining area (hot and cold buffet) opens 90 minutes prior to game time. The press workroom is located behind the dining area, with work stations for print, photo and broadcast media. The press workroom is for the exclusive use of working media filing on deadline. Please confine all social gatherings, arguments, debates and other such conversations to the dining area, so that a professional atmosphere can be maintained in the workroom. If you are not a working media member filing on deadline, please show a sense of professionalism and leave the work area for those who are.

Your $8 contribution to the press room with benefit "Garden of Dreams," the 501 C 3 non-profit charity that works closely with the Knicks and Rangers to make dreams come true for kids in crisis. Garden of Dreams is the new name for the Cheering for Children Foundation. Thank you for your support.

Your press room hosts are Joe Pinto, Roberto Gutierrez, Tom Matthews and Anthony DiGiovanni.

Seating: Press seating at the Garden is located on the Seventh Avenue baseline and in the ramp box located on the 8th Avenue (Knicks bench) end. Those holding Knicks season credentials or NBA season media passes covering a specific game must call the Knicks PR office to reserve seating. Overflow press will be seated in the upper press boxes on the 31st and 33rd Street sides.

Home radio ....Gate 62, 31st Street & 8th Avenue

Taxi!: Taxi service is readily available virtually 24 hours a day at various points around the Garden, especially at the main entrance to Penn Station (7th Avenue bet. 31st and 33rd Streets) and immediately outside the 8 Penn Plaza press entrance (southeast corner of 33rd Street and 8th Avenue, across from the Post Office).

Television Regulations:

Live Shots: Stations intending to produce live shots from the Garden must inform Knicks PR and MSG Electricians at (212) 465-6194 for appropriate coverage. All in-arena taping and live shots must be concluded by one hour prior to game time.

Game Footage: With the exception of NBA Entertainment, TV crews are not permitted to shoot game footage. All requests for game footage must be made through NBA Entertainment.

> When usually I came to visit him at dusk there was nothing to do. He stood in the shack, counting tickets and rubbing his belly. The radio was always on. "Man, have you dug that mad Marty Glickman announcing basketball games — up-to-midcourt-bounce-fake-set-shot, swish, two points. Absolutely the greatest announcer I ever heard." He was reduced to simple pleasures like these.

George Kalinsky for Madison Square Garden

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN

The images are endless, burning, unforgettable…Hope and Crosby on Opening Night…Willis Reed out of the tunnel for Game Seven…Pete Stemkowski in triple OT…19 straight points against Milwaukee…Sinatra in The Main Event…Ali and Frazier in The Fight…Ed-die, Ed-die…The Dunk…Patrick Ewing slamdunking the Knicks into the Finals…Mark Messier, Cup in hand, wiping out 54 years of frustration…LJ's four-pointer…The Great One's farewell…The Stones and The Dead and The King and The Pope and Streisand and Carter and Clinton and Bush…

It could all only happen in one place…Not a mere building but a state of mind…The greatest of the great in sports, arts and entertainment, summed up in three words…Madison Square Garden…The World's Most Famous Arena…

1879-1889: 26th Street and Madison Avenue

Beginnings

The current Garden - located between 31st and 33rd Streets and Seventh and Eighth Avenues on Manhattan's West Side - is the fourth building (third site) to be named Madison Square Garden.

Garden I was located at Madison Square: 26th Street and Madison Avenue. It was originally opened in 1874 (at a cost of $35,000) by the legendary P.T. Barnum as "Barnum's Monster Classical and Geological Hippodrome." However, it was soon renamed "Gilmore's Garden" when the lease was auctioned off to bandmaster Patrick S. Gilmore (the term "Garden" was used often during this period to denote a place of public gathering and entertainment).

The building, which had 28-foot walls without a roof, hosted a varied schedule of social and fraternal meetings, flower shows and commercial exhibitions. When Gilmore's lease expired in 1878, it was picked up briefly by W. M. Tileson. The following year, William Vanderbilt of the New York Central Railroad assumed control of the facility and officially renamed it "Madison Square Garden" on May 31, 1879. Featuring a sports and entertainment program that stressed such events as boxing and the National Horse Show, Garden I stood until its demolition in 1889.

Garden II was constructed on the site of Garden I, opening on Jun. 16, 1890 at a cost of $1.5 million. It contained an 8,000-seat main arena, 1,500-seat concert hall, 1,200-seat theatre and the world's largest indoor swimming pool. The Spanish Renaissance-style structure was topped by its most famous feature: a 32-story tower and roof garden atop which stood Augustus Saint-Gauden's gold statue of Diana, Goddess of the Hunt.

Stanford White, the renowned architect who designed Garden II, also figured in its most famous - and infamous - event. On the night of Jun. 25, 1906, White was gunned down in the Garden's rooftop garden by Pittsburgh millionaire Harry Thaw, allegedly in revenge for White's long-standing affair with Thaw's wife, showgirl Evelyn Nesbit. The White-Thaw-Nesbit love triangle was ultimately immortalized in the 1955 film The Girl in the Red Velvet Swing - starring Ray Milland as White and Joan Collins as Nesbit - and in the recent best-seller American Eve by Paula Uruburu (Riverhead Books, 2008). Nesbit died in obscurity in California at age 81 in 1967.

Garden II hosted a sporting card heavy with boxing, wrestling, six-day bicycle races and horse shows, along with national events such as the 1924 Democratic National Convention, a marathon that lasted through 16 days and 103 ballots. Movie buffs will recall that in Orson Welles' 1941 classic Citizen Kane, Charles Foster Kane's acceptance of the 1916 New York gubernatorial nomination takes place at Garden II (although, obviously, it wasn't actually filmed there).

Garden II closed with a boxing card on May 5, 1925, followed by a mournful eulogy by ring announcer Joe Humphreys: "Farewell to thee, o temple of fistiana. Farewell to thee, o sweet Miss Diana…". The New York Life Insurance Building (51 Madison Avenue) occupies the former site of Gardens I and II, while Diana found a new home at the Philadelphia Museum of Art.

1890-1925: 26th St. and Madison Ave.

Garden III - the "Old Garden" - was built in just 249 days at 49th Street and Eighth Avenue under the watchful eyes of promoter Tex Rickard and architect Thomas Lamb. The fabled 18,000-seat arena, built at a cost of $5.6 million, opened with a six-day bicycle race on Nov. 24, 1925, and for 43 years was America's premier sports and entertainment showplace. Ironically, Rickard did not live to see the blossoming of Garden III, suffering a fatal appendicitis attack on Jan. 6, 1929.

1925-1968: 49th Street and Eighth Avenue

Anyone who ever set foot in the Old Garden remembers its unforgettable atmosphere…the sky-high balcony…the haze from decades of cigarette smoke…the main lobby, a schmoozer's paradise…the marquee…G.O. Cards…the organ (played first by Gladys Goodding, later by Virginia Thomas)…the unmistakable voice of John Condon…the Nedick's and Adam Hats stores that flanked the main entrance…

Sports - especially basketball, hockey, boxing and track - would be the lifeblood of the Old Garden. But it also hosted entertainment extravaganzas ranging from the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus and the Gene Autry Rodeo to star-studded spectacles like Mike Todd's 1957 anniversary party for his film Around the World in 80 Days and President John F. Kennedy's May 19, 1962 birthday party which featured Marilyn Monroe's breathless version of "Happy Birthday." On the screen, the Garden provided the inspiration, and title, for the 1932 Paramount epic Madison Square Garden, starring Jack Oakie and ZaSu Pitts, as well as the on-location backdrop for the harrowing final reel of John Frankenheimer's 1962 classic The Manchurian Candidate.

The Knicks played their first game at Garden III on Nov. 11, 1946, losing to the Chicago Stags, 78-68, in overtime. In the 22 years the Knicks played on 49th Street, they would record just six sellouts, including the most famous of all - the long-awaited pro debut of Bill Bradley against Detroit before 18,499 fans and a worldwide media contingent on Dec. 9, 1967.

Garden III played host to three NBA All-Star Games: in 1954, 1955 and 1968. And although the Knicks made the NBA Finals three straight years in 1951-52-53, the Old Garden never hosted a Finals game. Due to circus scheduling conflicts, all Finals games in those three seasons were moved to the 69th Regiment Armory on Lexington Avenue. The Garden didn't host an NBA Finals game until 1970, two years after the move to 33rd and Seventh.

The Knicks played their final game at the Old Garden on Feb. 10, 1968, a 115-97 win over Philadelphia. The last event ever was the Westminster Dog Show, over Feb. 12-13, 1968. After the Old Garden was demolished, the site was used for years as a Kinney parking lot. The Worldwide Plaza office/apartment complex, which opened in 1989, now occupies the site.

Garden IV

On Nov. 3, 1960, Garden president Irving Mitchell Felt announced plans for a new Madison Square Garden - Garden IV - to eventually be built at 33rd Street between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, atop Pennsylvania Station.

Prospective sites for a New Garden had been discussed throughout the mid- and late-'50s, especially the area at Columbus Circle which would eventually house the New York Coliseum and, ultimately, the Time Warner Center.

Then the Garden Corporation obtained the coveted "air rights" above Penn Station from the Pennsylvania Railroad in 1961. The Railroad had entertained the idea of selling Penn Station's air rights as far back as 1951, when faced with a $72 million deficit. In 1955, Railroad president James Symes and famed real estate developer William Zeckendorf signed an agreement to option the Station's air rights for an industrial-commercial "Palace of Progress", with a new, renovated Penn Station below street level. When the project fell through, the Railroad sold the air rights to the Garden Corporation. Above-ground demolition of Penn Station began on Oct. 28, 1963, with new concrete poured starting on May 1, 1964.

The effort was not without its critics, one of whom called the destruction of Penn Station "an act of irresponsible public vandalism." Ultimately, Penn Station's legacy was the New York City Landmarks Preservation Commission, the guiding force behind a series of laws that today protect more than 1,000 individual city landmarks.

Garden IV opened as a glittering sports and entertainment showplace, with its distinctive circular, cable-suspended roof above the 19,000-seat arena, its 5,000-seat Felt Forum, 48-lane Bowling Center, 500-seat cinema, Hall of Fame Club, National Art Museum of Sport, 50,000-square foot Exposition Rotunda and 29-story office building (Two Penn Plaza) attached by a pedestrian mall.

1968- Present: 33rd Street and Eighth Avenue

The first element of the New Garden complex to open its doors was the Bowling Center, on Oct. 30, 1967. On Nov. 26, 1967, the Felt Forum opened with a performance of the Welsh and Scots Guards.

The "New Garden" itself officially opened on Feb. 11, 1968, when Bob Hope and Bing Crosby hosted "The Night of the Century," a star-studded salute to the USO. Three days later – Feb. 14, 1968 - the Knicks played their first game in their new home, a 114-102 victory over the San Diego Rockets in the nightcap of an NBA doubleheader.

ODDS N' ENDS

Cost for design and construction of the present Garden was $43 million.

Garden IV was built by Turner Construction and the Del E. Webb Corporation. The building was designed by Charles Luckman, the fabled entrepreneur and architect who died in 1999. Luckman also designed the Great Western Forum, the Los Angeles Convention Center, CBS Television City, the Prudential Center in Boston and the Johnson Space Center in Houston.

The Garden arena is 425 feet in diameter, 13 stories high, and occupies 820,000-square feet of real estate.

Each of the four entrance/exit towers is over 100 feet high and contains at least 10 escalators.

Seating capacity for Knicks basketball is 19,763. From Feb. 4, 1993 to Nov. 5, 2002, the Knicks compiled a streak of 433 consecutive home sellouts (regular season, plus Playoffs), the fifth-longest sellout streak in NBA history.

The Garden entered the 2010-11 season as the second-oldest arena in the NBA. Only Oakland's Oracle Arena (originally opened in 1966 as the Oakland Coliseum Arena) is older. The Garden and Oracle Arena have both undergone extensive renovations over the last two decades. The 2010-11 campaign will mark the Knicks' 43rd full season (44th season overall) in Garden IV.

The Garden entered the 2009-10 season as the second-oldest arena in the NBA. Only Oakland's Oracle Arena (originally opened in 1966 as the Oakland Coliseum Arena) is older. The Garden and Oracle Arena have both undergone extensive renovations over the last two decades. The 2009-10 campaign will mark the Knicks' 42nd full season (43rd season overall) in Garden IV.

And even though the original Penn Station was demolished nearly a half-century ago, several of its features survive. Sculptor Adolph Weinman's bronze statue of Pennsylvania Railroad President Samuel Rea, which once overlooked the main waiting room of Penn Station, now stands proudly at the Seventh Avenue entrance to Two Penn Plaza. Two of Weinman's 22 concrete eagles, which had adorned the Station's outside perimeter for 53 years, guard Seventh Avenue in front of Two Penn.

THROUGH THE YEARS

A look at the improvements/enhancements at Garden IV over the years:

1972: Garden IV becomes the first New York sports venue to install luxury boxes, formally named "Hall of Fame Lounges." The original deck of 11 luxury suites - each measuring 23x15 feet and accommodating 10 people - is installed above the mezzanine level on the 33rd Street side... Due to the ongoing luxury suite construction, basketball broadcast locations are moved to courtside and directly above center-court exit tunnels. Previously, they had been located in a two-level booth suspended from the roof.

1977: Original end zone scoreboards replaced by new 36-foot long scoreboards in each end zone, and smaller auxiliary boards on the facing of the mezzanine at center court. New boards feature tenth-of-a-second timing capabilities and black-and-white animated matrix boards.

1989-91: Over a three-year span, the Garden complex undergoes an extensive renovation program. Initially announced on January 26, 1989, it is a multi-million dollar effort in which…

Each of the original red, orange, yellow, green and blue seats is removed and replaced. Primary color scheme is now purple and teal.

Existing scoreboards are replaced by a new computerized system that features the eight-sided Center Display Board (37 feet wide at the top, 34 feet wide at the bottom), complete with "GardenVision" color replay screens and multi-colored end zone boards, by White Way Company of Chicago. It is the first eight-sided scoreboard in a major U.S. arena. Original Garden sound system is also completely overhauled, including the replacement of the original center-hung "sound cluster" with an entirely new system of speaker clusters affixed to the arena ceiling.

Original Hall of Fame Lounges (luxury boxes) are removed and replaced by a completely new deck of 89 Club Suites that encircles the entire arena, including a double-deck of suites on the 7th Avenue end.

The Paramount, a state-of-the-art, 5,600-seat theatre which quickly becomes a hub of Big Apple live entertainment, is constructed on the former site of the Felt Forum (renamed The Theatre in 1995, the WaMu Theatre in 2007, The Theatre at Madison Square Garden in 2009). Fronting the main entrance is the Garden Walk of Fame, which opens in 1992.

Two major dining facilities - The Club Restaurant and the Play-By-Play sports bar and restaurant - are constructed on the former site of the Bowling Center and the Hall of Fame Club.

MSG IV construction, 1966

Dramatic upgrades and improvements in virtually all other facets of the Garden, especially concession stands (including all-new Food Courts), locker rooms, press room, box office, Garden Team Store and broadcast facilities.

1995: Knicks and Rangers locker room areas are further renovated and expanded, including increased player/locker space, expanded training and X-ray facilities and individual offices for all coaches.

2000-10: Ongoing improvement program in the new century features "GardenVision" upgraded to HDTV format and continued expansion of locker rooms, coaches offices, arena sound system, video facilities and exterior advertising capability. Also added are fan amenities including an all-new Team Store at Gate 75, the Garden Pub at Gate 70, The Prime Rib at Gate 76, and the Live at the Garden music museum/pub at Gate 66. New courtside Club seating for Knicks basketball was established in 2006. The following year, an entirely new LED and Matrix center scoreboard and side out-of-town boards were installed. The main concourse now boasts a sushi stand and the MSG Collectibles store.

And a New Era Dawns…

Madison Square Garden is currently undergoing a comprehensive, top-to-bottom transformation that will provide a significantly enhanced experience for customers, athletes, entertainers, suite holders and partners. The project is being paid for entirely by Madison Square Garden and will involve over 2.6 million man hours of union labor, the equivalent of at least 1,300 full-time jobs, and will create as many as 3,700 union construction jobs. It will also restore The Garden's world famous ceiling and pay homage to the buildings storied history. The project's architect is Brisbin Brook Beynon, Construction Manager is Turner and Project Manager is JLL.

Extensive research and focus groups were conducted and the feedback was used to develop the plans for the transformation. The transformed Madison Square Garden is expected to attract even more high profile sports and entertainment events, major concerts and awards shows. Some of the many major upgrades will include:

• Beautiful new entrance which nearly doubles in size and features interactive kiosks, retail, climate controlled space, and broadcast area

• Public concourses doubling and tripling in size, some with spectacular city views

• Larger, more comfortable seats

• Improved upper bowl sightlines that put patrons over 17 degrees closer to the action

• Two new one-of-a-kind Bridges that will provide great views of the arena floor and offer a unique perspective for fans

• State-of-the-art lighting, sound and LED video systems in HDTV, and new fiber-optic cabling throughout the building

• Improved dressing rooms, locker rooms, green rooms and production offices

• Additional bathrooms with 50% more dedicated space

• Corporate offerings: 58 Lower Level suites that will be 40% larger and half the distance to the events and include seats in the arena bowl, 20 Event Level Suites that offer a lounge/entertaining atmosphere, and 18 remodeled 9th level suites. There will also be two new club spaces, one at the event level and one at the lower level of the arena.

Below is a timeline for when elements of the transformed Garden are planned to debut:

2011-12 Season:
• Lower Bowl seating area

• Expanded Lower Concourse with city views, enhanced concession stands featuring Coca-Cola products and additional retail locations (some components will gradually come on through the season)

• 20 new Event Level Suites offering a sophisticated atmosphere and the best seats in the house

• New Delta SKY360° Club offering exclusive dining options and views of athletes entering and exiting the locker room area

2012-13 Season:
• Upper Bowl seating area and significantly improved sightlines

• Expanded Upper Concourse with city views, enhanced concession stands featuring Coca-Cola products and additional retail locations (some components will gradually come on through the season)

• 58 new Lower Level Suites that are larger and half the distance to the court/ice with bowl seating

• New all-inclusive Super Club with seating in the arena and exclusive club space available for corporations and individuals looking to entertain at Knicks and Rangers games

2013-14 Season:
• New 7th Avenue Entrance featuring interactive kiosks, retail locations and a broadcast area

• Two spectacular new Bridges that will be suspended above the court/ice for a one-of-a-kind view of the action

• New 10th floor Party Decks offering a selection of new food and beverage options and a unique social gathering space with direct views into the arena bowl

• New state-of-the-art GardenVision center-hung scoreboard

• 18 completely remodeled 9th floor Suites

"New York is not a city. It is a set of cities, dozens of them, divided by caste, class, taste and blood. Most of us are welcome in a few of these cities, barred from others by tradition, or fear, or indifference, or income. But all of us hold safe conduct passes to The Garden. It is a center of experience for the same reason New York is: nothing is out of place there. Walk through a neighborhood of New York and you will find people who would never dream of setting foot in Carnegie Hall, the Empire State Building, the Fillmore East, Sunnyside Gardens, The Four Seasons, or the Bronx Zoo. Madison Square Garden is alien to none of us."

NEW YORK LIBERTY

On Oct. 30, 1996, New York was selected as one of eight charter members of the Women's Basketball Association (WNBA). Within four months, Carol Blazejowski, a member of the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame, was named Vice President and General Manager for the New York franchise. Rebecca Lobo and Teresa Weatherspoon joined as the team's first players and the franchise name and logo were introduced.

The Liberty's and WNBA's first game was played on Jun. 21, 1997 in Los Angeles. Led by Head Coach Nancy Darsch, the Liberty defeated the L.A. Sparks, 67-57, before a crowd of 14,284 at the Great Western Forum. On Jun. 29, 1997, in front of a crowd of 17,780, the Liberty scored their first win at home, defeating Phoenix, 65-57.

The 2010 season marked the 14th Season for the Liberty and the WNBA. The New York Liberty have become synonymous with summertime excitement, electricity and excellence.

The Liberty have posted an all-time franchise record of 245-213 (.535), a record of 150-79 (.655) in front of the greatest fans in New York City and have qualified for the WNBA Playoffs in 10 of their 14 seasons.

The team has finished first or second in the Eastern Conference seven times, and reached the WNBA Finals four times.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN TRAINING CENTER

With today's professional athletes having to compete at a higher level than ever before, the New York Knicks, along with the NHL's Rangers and WNBA's Liberty started to train year-round in the state-of-the-art Madison Square Garden Training Center in Greenburgh, NY in September of 2002. This facility is another proactive element of the organizations' continuing commitment towards supplying Madison Square Garden sports fans with the most competitive teams in their respective leagues.

Madison Square Garden Training Center offers the Knicks, Rangers and Liberty the opportunity to utilize the best equipment, the best training regimen, the best diets, the best environment – to elevate their performances when they open their respective schedules in the NBA, NHL and WNBA. The 105,000 square foot facility, set on 16 acres of private land in Westchester County, is equipped with well-appointed private areas and office space, exercise rooms with dedicated equipment for each team, the latest technology and first-class amenities.

The facility features two basketball courts and one NHL regulation-sized hockey rink. Each team's area within Madison Square Garden Training Center includes:
